HUNT SLAYERS OF WOMAN IN SHOCKING OHIO CRIME

Flimsy Clues Are Followed In Cleveland

Police Working Diligently
To Find Slayer Of Mrs.
Ruth Steese

WAS KIDNAPED FROM STREET

Bullet Riddled And Strangled Body Found In Auto, Robbery Motive

(International News Service)
CLEVELAND, Dec. 31.—
Armed with only flimsy clues, police today pushed an intensive probe into the brutal slaying of Mrs. Ruth Steese, 26, attractive bookkeeper of the Cleveland Society for the Blind.
Robbery and intended attack were believed to have been the motives for the slaying.

Kidnaped And Slain
Kidnaped on a main thoroughfare
after she had visited a bank, Mrs.
Steese's lifeless body was found later in the back seat of a borrowed automobile on an isolated road in Beechwood Village, a suburb.
She had been strangled by her own cream colored scarf, shot twice in the head, blindfolded and her hands tied behind her with a piece of cord.
More than $200 in cash had been taken from the victim, which lent support to the theory of a robbery motive.

Hunt Discharged Employee
Cleveland, O., Dec. 31.—A discharged employee was hunted by city and county authorities this afternoon in connection with the brutal slaying of Mrs. Ruth Steese, 26-year-old welfare worker, whose mu-

PA NEW OBSERVES

The season's greetings—Happy
New Year to all!

A boy downtown today was heard repeating that he wishes "it would snow and snow until there is enough for me to use my new easy guiding stick." Well, maybe it will, friend. If not it seems. Dances, shows and parties seem to be the popular diversions on schedule.

"Where are you going to be tonight?" seems to be a popular question today among the young set. The new year will be given a real greeting it seems. Dances, shows and parties seem to be the popular
diversions on schedule.

A car on North Jefferson street this morning clanged along with chains on the rear wheels. Of all things!

Many motorists seem to be waiting until the last minute before putting on their new registration plates.

Indications that winter is about to return again were seen this morning, in the gradually lowering of the mercury in the thermometer and the snowflakes which filled the air.

Local streams are again high following the rains of the last few days.
The rains of the week will aid in saturating the ground and help to fill up the farmers' springs and wells for the winter.

Daily Weather Report

U. S. weather statistics for the 24 hour period ending at 9 o'clock this morning, follows:
Maximum temperature, 52.
Minimum temperature, 35.
Precipitation, 80 inches.
River stage, 6.2 feet.

Statistics for the same date a year ago follows:
Maximum temperature, 38.
Minimum temperature, 20.
No precipitation.

Township's Last Veteran Is Dead

John A. Magee Dies At His Home In Plaingrove
Township, Friday

SERVED FOUR YEARS
IN UNION RANKS

JOHN A. MAGEE
John A. Magee, last surviving veteran of the Civil war in Plaingrove township, and one of Lawrence county's oldest and most highly esteemed residents, died at his home in the township Friday, December 30, at 8
p. m. following an illness of three months due to complications.

Mr. Magee was born in Slippery Rock April 22, 1843, the son of John and Jane Munnell Magee, pioneer residents of this district. He was past 89 years of age and had spent 33 years of his life on the homestead.
He was a farmer by occupation until his retirement a number of years ago.

Mr. Magee was a veteran of the Civil war and had nearly four years of actual service in the Union army.
He was a member of Company E of

Tax Justice League Meeting Friday Night Is Spirited Session

Salary Cutting Program Develops Controversy At One Stage

Numerous Economy Programs Are Discussed
During Meeting

Last evening's meeting of the Tax Justice League at the court house proved one of the most interesting that has been yet held, the argument following the reports of committees recently appointed to inquire into cost of different forms of government with plans for reducing the same waxing furious and some warm words were exchanged between different parties at the meeting, as accusations were hurled.

However, President J. W. Pattison quieted the disturbers and the meeting ended peacefully, resolutions being adopted that the reports of the committees be turned over to the legal advisory committee and that they recommend changes in the acts of assembly at once to the local legislators.

Attorney J. Clyde Gilfillan and Attorney L. J. Donaldson spoke briefly about costs of government and suggested some methods of reform which had considerable merit.

Would Publish Assessments.
Attorney Donaldson suggested that the triennial assessment report be published in the newspapers showing just what the assessment against various properties in the city and county amounted to. He quoted Counsellor Garland of Pittsburgh as stating that if such a plan were carried out in Pittsburgh and Allegheny county, and those properties which were assessed at too low a figure were properly assessed at their true value, that the city of Pittsburgh and county of Allegheny could raise an additional three million dollars in taxation.

Mr. Gilfillan decried the attitude of those persons whose salaries as public servants were being reduced.
He stated that if those people were not satisfied with the reductions which were proposed in their cases,

State Police Will Locate Here Sunday

Detail To Be Stationed In Quarters At Colonial
Hotel Again

HENECHECK WILL COMMAND DETAIL

Officers Sent Here In Response To Local Appeal
To Governor

Carrying out his promise of some weeks ago, Captain J. Oftedahl, commanding the State Police barracks at Butler, has assigned three state policemen to New Castle, effective Sunday morning, January 1, 1933. The three men are Private Jacob Heneczek who will be in charge of the detail, Private Eckle and Bradbury. The men will be stationed in the Colonial hotel, where the detail was formerly.
The assignment of the three State police to New Castle comes as the result of an appeal to the governor some time ago. City and county authorities felt that the crime wave which had swept the county had grown to such proportions that some state aid was necessary and arrangements were made to have a delegation of citizens go to Harrisburg to lay the matter before the governor. Governor Pinchot suggested that he have a representative sent here and thus save the trip across the state, and Captain Oftedahl came to New Castle. After hearing the petition of the authorities and the citizens here, he said that he would recommend that three men be stationed here. This recommendation was agreed to by

Ruth Judd Has Gained Ground In Court Fight

Grand Jury Recommends
Sentence Be Commuted
To Life Term

"WHOLE STORY"
FINALLY TOLD

"Happy Jack" Halloran Of Arizona, Held Under Indictment

By EDWARD LABOWITZ
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PHOENIX, Ariz., Dec. 31.—

Winnie Ruth Judd gained ground today in her battle to escape death on the gallows.
In a strongly worded resolution the Maricopa grand jury which heard for the first time from her own lips "the whole story" of the "double trunk murders" for which she was convicted, recommended that the Arizona board of pardons commute her death sentence to life imprisonment.

Mrs. Judd, accused of killing Agnes Anne Leroy and Hedvig Samuelson and of shipping their dismembered bodies in trunks to Los Angeles, had been convicted of the murder of Mrs. Leroy and had been sentenced to hang Feb. 17. The Samuelson charge still is pending against her.

Self Defense

The grand jury declared it was convinced that Mrs. Judd had acted in self-defense when Mrs. Leroy and Miss Samuelson were killed Oct. 16, 1931 in the Phoenix "murder bunglow".

Mrs. Judd recently was denied a new trial by the state supreme court.
It was regarded as significant, however, that Judge Howard Speakman, who presided at her trial conferred with the grand jury before its action was taken.

The grand jury sent its resolution

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Dec.

Now that's the kind of congress
we want—one where we don't know if they are in session or

See where Insull is going to France loaned Austria almost as much as she was to pay us,

Celebrate Great Safety Record At Shenango Plant

One Hundred Leaders And Guests Take Part In Evening Program

MANAGER PYLE
COMMENDS MEN

National Recognition For Plant For Year Regarded As Certain

What was termed the "finest safety record ever compiled in the United States or Canada" was marked Friday night, December 30, when the Shenango Tin Plant Safety Committee and the Foremen's Club held a celebration in the mill dining room and assembly hall.

Three hundred seventy-four consecutive days without a single lost time accident or expressed in man hours, nearly 4,000,000 man hours without any disabling accident is the record and the Shenango men made the most of the auspicious record.

About one hundred men were present, including departmental heads, foremen and guests. At six fifteen an oyster supper was served in the dining room of the plant and following this the men adjourned to the assembly room in the hospital building. Here Harry Gravenstretter, head of the safety bureau of the plant took charge as chairman. Herbert Christman led in a couple of pep songs with John M. Evans at the piano, and the chairman then introduced David S. Pyle, general manager of the plant.

Happy Day.
Mr. Pyle's address was a short one but there was no mistaking his feeling in the matter. His remarks followed:

Honored Guests, Members of the Plant Safety Committee, and Members of Shenango Organization:

This is one of the happiest moments of my life. It has always been my desire to operate Shenango Works an entire calendar without a "black mark". This desire has been realized, and that is why we are celebrating tonight.

When you stop to consider that 374 days means approximately "four million" Man Hours without a disabling injury, I feel it is a real achievement and something worthwhile.

Paden Is Again Elected As Head Of County Organ-

Lawrence county road supervisors and auditors went on record as being opposed to the Williamson bill, which would take $30,000,000 from the State Highway Department, and allocate it to various class cities, boroughs and townships, in resolutions passed at the annual convention held at the court house yesterday.

Dangers of the bill so far as rural sections of the state are concerned were pointed out by State Senator George T. Weingartner, State Senator-Elect, Alonzo S. Batchelor of Beaver, and other speakers.

A resolution favoring a direct return to townships of a percentage of the gasoline tax, in lieu of the state reward plan, was passed, and also one asking the county treasurer to return to supervisors at least quarterly all taxes collected by the county from sales of seated or unseated lands.

LEGISLATORS TO CONFER ON MONDAY NIGHT

Legislators Are Anxious To Begin On 1933 Program

Machinery Of Pennsylvania State Legislature Being Geared Today

FIRST MEETINGS WILL BE MONDAY

Formal Opening Of New Session Will Come Tuesday, Economy Keynote

By JOSEPH A. LOFTUS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Dec. 31—Machinery of the legislative branch of Pennsylvania's government was geared today for an auspicious start next week.

Trailing the New Year by less than 24 hours, a new assembly will convene in party units Monday night for the preliminary test runs, and Tuesday at noon will see the formal launching. All the conventional and constitutional pomp and ceremony which opened 129 preceding assemblies at Harrisburg will appear in traditional order.

Talbot Favored
Activities of the initial week will be confined to the necessary formalities and routine, with all developments fore-ordained. What votes are to be cast are already counted. The house speakership, viewed a few months ago as a possible tug-of-war center, now waits only upon the calmest parliamentary procedure. The post will go to Rep. Grover C. Talbot, choice of the Republican state organization.

Wilson G. Sarig will be recorded as the candidate of the Democrats. They will be named at the Monday night huddle of their respective parties.

Likewise, Senator James S. Boyd will be returned as president pro-tempore of the senate, which the state Republican machine has completely in hand. The principal appointive officers of both branches are slated for another term.

Will Hear Pinchot
Elections will take place and appointments will be made shortly after noon Tuesday, when the session will be called to order and new and re-elected members are sworn in by secretary of the commonwealth Richard J. Beamish. A joint session of house and senate will then hear Gov. Gifford Pinchot in his biennial message.

Of the 257 legislators in house and senate, one-third are novices. By political division, the assembly is one-fourth Democratic, three-fourths Republican. The three-fourths, however, are divided in allegiance, the state organization claiming the majority. Approximately 50 house members will be aligned with administration policies.

Economy Is Keynote
Economy has become the keynote of the session's program, and in that respect all parties and factions stand on common ground. What shall constitute economy measures, however, are far from unanimous views. Hundreds of bills have been prepared for introduction. They represent virtually every phase of legislation which the assembly will consider. From a standpoint of volume, presentation of bills at the 1933 session is expected to set new records.

DESERTION CHARGED IN DIVORCE CASE
Mamie S. Avery has filed an application at the prothonotary's office for a divorce from her husband, Dale R. Avery, on the grounds of desertion. They were married in June, 1924, and lived together until November, 1929.

OPPOSE DIVERSION OF HIGHWAY FUNDS

of it," said Mr. Hanlon, but analyzed it will be found that it would give the larger cities of the state an immense chunk of motor money, and the smaller districts such as New Castle and the townships of this county would get but little. If such a bill were made into law, the work of building highways throughout the state would have to be seriously curtailed, if not actually stopped.

"The Pennsylvania Motor Federation has always insisted that the motorist was entitled to every dollar he paid into the highway funds. Years ago the federation endorsed the road bond issue because it believed the time had come to start building highways. Its action at that time has been more than justified. The federation has opposed unjust taxes upon the motorist and will continue to battle them. It has always stood, and will continue to stand against treasury grabs from the highway funds.

"The fact that such an organization as the Better Business Bureau now enters the lists against such practices is most heartening for it adds strength to the force of the motorist's big battle. The New Castle Better Business Bureau is to be congratulated upon its stand in the matter and upon its actions thus far. It will find the Pennsylvania Motor Federation ready to fight shoulder to shoulder with it in this matter."

Meet With Legislators.
A meeting of the Better Business Bureau was held with State Senator-elect A. S. Batchelor, Assemblyman William McElwee, Jr., and Assemblyman-elect W. G. Eroe, Jr., Friday, December 30. At this meeting copies of the recently signed petitions against diversion of the highway funds were handed to the three gentlemen named and they were asked to exercise every effort to defeat such legislation in the next session.

Senator Batchelor and Assemblyman McElwee stated that they were opposed to all such legislation. Eroe said that he favored the Williamson bill because it would give New Castle highway money. Batchelor and McElwee explained to him that New Castle had been getting money from the state in the past three years both for building streets and maintaining them. If the Williamson bill were passed it is true that New Castle would get more money, but the building of highways would be curtailed. This would mean a cessation of hiring local men for work on highways and a cessation of the purchase of road building materials from Lawrence county producers.

Senator Batchelor stated that he would present the petition in the senate and ask that it be included in the journal of that body.

ROAD SUPERVISORS OPPOSE ALLOCATION OF HIGHWAY FUNDS

ship, was re-elected president for the ensuing year; Roy Thompson, of New Wilmington, vice president; J. W. Cox, of New Wilmington, secretary; and Herbert A. Leslie, of Little Beaver township, treasurer.

An exhaustive survey of road work in Lawrence county was made by J. Leo Campbell, of Pittsburgh, Assistant Engineer of Maintenance. He said that Governor Pinchot's promise to take over 20,000 miles of township roads was made good on August 15, 1931. On that day this entire mileage was added to Pennsylvania's State Highway system, and became known as the rural road mileage.

Working under Secretary of Highways, Samuel S. Lewis, as Chief Engineer, Samuel Eckles, as Assistant Chief Engineer, and Wayne D. Myers, maintenance, P. M. Tebb, construction, six division engineers and twelve district engineers, Lawrence county, with seven other counties, forms division 6. Maintenance work in this county is supervised by Superintendent H. W. Lightner, with the help of assistant, Charles Johnston, and others.

Extent Of System
On August 15, 1931 a total of 194 miles of roads in Lawrence county became a part of the rural road mileage, of which 160 were unimproved. Since that time 38 miles of this 160 have been reconstructed and at the present time 10 miles are under construction, while 10 miles more have been authorized for re-construction. Allowing for this 20 miles and the 38 already constructed, there will remain only 102 miles of unimproved road.

In the construction of this 38 miles and the reclamation and special treatment of an additional 19 miles, approximately $300,000 have been expended in the county, and employment has been furnished for an average force of 350 men.

In this construction over $7,000 was expended for 12,000 feet of culvert pipe. Approximately 120,000 cubic yards of material were excavated, and over 120,000 tons of bank run gravel, native stone, slag and crushed stone were used.

Roads Surfaced
During the spring and fall of this year alone 24 miles of this rural road mileage was given a surface treatment at a cost of $28,800, on which were used 224,000 gallons of oil and stone.

It is estimated that $15,000 additional will be required for guard rails, 2000 posts will be needed and 35,000 feet of fence.

On the state highway system in Lawrence county there are 136 miles of roads, practically all of which are improved. Added to the rural road mileage, 194, makes a total of 330 miles in the county. This mileage is supervised by a superintendent and assistant and 14 foremen, with approximately 25 miles each.

District Engineer H. E. Kloss authorizes the statement that he has been very well satisfied with results from native stone construction. Careful control of funds expended is kept at Harrisburg. Six thousand dollars per mile is authorized and the superintendent must keep within that figure. In the regular maintenance of rural roads, $70,000 has been expended or an average of $360 per mile, since August 1931.

187 Bridges
In the 194 miles of township road taken over in this county in August, 31, there were a total of 187 bridges, and of these 72 were excluded by the act and remain the responsibility of the townships and county. The 115 taken over have been inspected and 20 have been repaired at a cost of $2,200, while 13 have been rebuilt at a cost of $9,000.

In this county the annual cost of removing snow is about $15,000. Each year 12 miles of snow fence is erected. An ordinary snow requires a force of 50 men, 10 plows and 10 trucks. So far the rural mileage has not been placed on the program.

The equipment, exclusive of small tools for Lawrence county, represents an expenditure of $50,000. Major items are 10 large trucks, 6 small trucks, 10 snow plows, 6 tractors, 4 graders, 6 power graders, 30 drags and 4 chip spreaders.

Urges Economy
State Senator, George T. Weinberger, urged upon the supervisors the necessity of economy in making out this year's schedule. Everywhere citizens are crying for tax relief, taxes are breaking the backs of city people and farmers alike. Some of these taxes are within the control of the city, township, and county. Others are not. But wherever it is possible to cut down on taxation, Mr. Weinberger believed that it should be done. He urged supervisors to cut down their millage. In some districts this has already been done. Some have cut from 10 mills to 7 mills. In at least one instance a cut has been made to 5 mills.

The only way to cut taxes down, he said, is by decreasing expenses. He believed the cutting process ought to be applied to county and school expenses. Mr. Weinberger took occasion to explain that the tax cards have the words, "county and state taxes." This is a misnomer, as all of the taxes now go to the county. There was a time when the state got the four mill tax on the county, but it now stays in the county.

Dwelling further on the need for economy, Mr. Weinberger spoke of his experiences in supervising relief funds in this county. There are now 3700 families who are receiving relief. Two months ago there were 3100. The number is steadily growing.

Explaining the proposed Williamson bill which would allocate $30,000,000 to the different subdivisions of the state from the road department, Mr. Weinberger stated that he is satisfied that nothing worse for the purpose of the rural sections, than the enactment of this bill into a law. It would mean the breaking down of our road system. Philadelphia and Pittsburgh are for the measure because it would mean that they would get the lions share of the money.

After Information
William J. Eroe, assemblyman-elect from the New Castle district, said that he had come to the conclusion that he had come to the conclusion that the supervisors stood on the Williamson bill. He had heard it discussed in the taxpayers league, but he wanted to know, first hand, what the supervisors really thought of the measure.

He had also heard the proposition of one supervisor instead of three discussed and wanted to know if this would cut down expenses, and what the supervisors thought of it. President Milo Paden answered him by calling attention to road work done in Ohio under one supervisor. He claimed that it has been unsatisfactory and had cost as much as with three supervisors. Road work must be done in the spring to be of advantage. When there are three supervisors, they can get at it early and clean it up in time to have the roads in shape for the summer, while one man would be all summer going over the township. The sense of the meeting was that there should be three supervisors.

State Senator-elect, Alonzo S. Batchelor gave a brief talk in which he told the supervisors that he did not believe the Williamson bill would be a good thing. He said that he agreed with Senator Weinberger that the most of the money would be diverted to the large cities and the county districts would suffer.

There was a general discussion of road problems such as are met by supervisors in their daily work. The meeting was well attended and enthusiastic.

Postal Employees To Have Holiday

New Years Day will be observed by the New Castle post office, according to a statement today by Postmaster Lake S. MacNab. There will be no window service, neither will there be any city or rural mail deliveries. Special deliveries will be delivered to the homes, but nothing else. Mail will be dispatched as usual from the post office to trains.

from the State Registration Board for Professional Engineers and was signed by Rebecca J. Nickles, secretary. In effect it said his application for registration had been accepted and said "you are entitled to practice the profession of engineering in this commonwealth."

During councilmanic consideration of the 1933 appropriations Councilman Treser stated that the city would only have one engineer beginning in 1933. It was reported then that his choice for the position would be Mr. Hoskins who has worked on all the city projects here during the past few years. While his fee is fixed at $3,000, he will return 10 per cent to the general revenue fund, it was stated today.

Gov. Lehman And Mayor O'Brien To Take Oaths Today

Governor Of State And Mayor Of New York City Sworn In Today

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Dec. 31—New York's two chief magistrates take the oath of office today in quiet, business like surroundings.

Governor-elect Herbert H. Lehman, whose plans for a formal inauguration at Albany Monday were changed by the death of his sister, Mrs. Richard Lansing, will be administered the oath by his brother, Judge Irving Lehman, of the Court of Appeals.

Judge Lehman will also administer the oath of office today to Mayor-elect John P. O'Brien, who will be inaugurated formally on Tuesday.

SEEK CHANGES IN SCHOOL CODE

of Chester. The report of the committee was adopted and will go to every second class school district in the state.

The reason for the calling together of the second class school directors in Harrisburg early this week was for the purpose of laying plans to combat the proposal of the State Department of Public Instruction that the subsidies to second and third class districts be decreased and that to the fourth class districts be increased. The first class districts are left alone.

When the delegates were called together it was found that many boards in the state felt that certain other changes might well be adopted and many of these changes were discussed. A second meeting will be held in Harrisburg sometime in the January when the plans for furthering the protest against the plan of the Department of Public Instruction will be defined.

Report
The report of the Resolutions committee follows:

We favor the retention of the essential principles of the Edmonds act providing for minimum wages for teachers and principals with eight annual increments but recommend that paragraph 5 of section 1210 of the school code shall now be amended so as to provide that there shall be no need to make any increments during the two year period beginning on the first Monday of July, 1933, second class school districts may at their option fix salaries to teachers and principals provided that no teacher in the elementary grades shall receive less than $1,000, that no teacher in the high school grades shall receive less than $1,400 and further that no teacher shall receive less than eighty per cent. of the minimum salary to which she is now entitled by virtue of the provisions of paragraph 5 of section 1210 of the school code.

We urge on the State Legislature that there should be no reduction in state appropriations to local school districts for general or vocational purposes.

Recognizing the need for reduction in state appropriations to educational purposes, we insist that there should be no reduction affecting the public school teachers and the school children, but such reductions should be applied to normal schools, state aid colleges and supervision and administration expenses.

Believing that an excess sum is now being charged annually to local districts for teachers retirement fund purposes, we urge that the amount of the assessments should now be reduced.

Believing that economies can readily be effected thereby, we urge that wider option be given to our local districts with respect to the character of the subjects to be taught and that the powers of the State Department of Public Instruction in this regard shall be appropriately restricted.

We urge that each second class school district shall send to Mr. Walter W. Duff at New Castle, Pennsylvania, a brief statement showing what economies each district has been able to effect and what economies are now planned. The Chester City school district has agreed to have copies of all of such statements made and compiled and will furnish to each second class school district in the state a complete copy of all of such statements. The committee believes that every local district will be enlightened in this manner and will also be enabled to put into effect economies otherwise not thought possible.

to the pardon board shortly after J. J. "Happy Jack" Halloran, Phoenix lumberman and sportsman, had been indicted as an accessory to the murder.

Man Denies Charges
Halloran denied the charges against him as "false, and a grave injustice."

The charge against Halloran was based on alleged attempted concealment of a crime. He appeared voluntarily in court and posted $3,000 bond for appearance at a preliminary hearing Tuesday. Halloran was not charged by the grand jury with aiding in the actual killing of the two pretty women friends of Mrs. Judd, but with knowledge of the murder which was concealed from authorities, and with aiding Mrs. Judd after the crime.

Increase Shown In Estates Settled
During the year just closed there have been 298 estates disposed of by will or by letters of administration, as evidenced by records at the office of Register and Recorder Jeanette Hutton. This is an increase of 15 over the year 1931, when there were 283. The records of estates settled do not vary greatly from year to year.

Mrs. Pat McCart of Bell avenue is confined to her home by illness.

TUESDAY KENSINGTON HOLIDAY GATHERING

The Tuesday Kensington made merry Friday evening at the William Sterling residence located on East Wallace avenue, when they were entertained at a beautifully appointed 6:30 o'clock dinner in celebration of the New Year. The table, adorned in the seasons suggestions, marked places for twenty-eight, the husbands of members being special guests. A bountiful menu was served by the committee, comprising Mrs. W. O. Williams, chairman, Mrs. J. Q. Roberts, Mrs. Eliza Round, Mrs. Elizabeth Beer, Mrs. H. G. Horton, Mrs. W. A. Eakin and Mrs. Sterling.

Following the menu members were given numbers and sent on a "gift hunt" each following a string which led to various corners of the house where a neatly wrapped gift was found. This caused much amusement, and the remaining hours were spent informally.

On January 10 the club will meet in regular session at the home of Mrs. Dan Kennedy on Blaine street.

Camp Girls Gather.

A delightful event of Friday evening took place at the home of Mrs. C. E. Kennedy on Harrison street, when she entertained the group of girls whom she chaperoned on a week's camp life at the Emanuel cottage last summer located along Lake Erie just outside of Albion.

The chatting over of camp life and amusing instances formed an entertaining feature also; radio music, cards and the reviewing of snapshots filled in the hours.

At a suitable time the hostess served a dainty repast to Misses Dorothy Scott and Eleanor Grossman, both residents of Albion, and the remaining ones from New Castle, namely, Mary Whalen, Jean Glenn and the hostess, Mrs. Edna Longacre and Miss Ellen Rocks, who were also among the campers, were unable to participate on this occasion, being confined to their homes with grip.

Holiday Dinner

The Katherine Von Bora Missionary Society of the St. John's Lutheran church had its annual holiday dinner Thursday evening in the home of Miss Anna Allhouse, Beckford street and the tables were most attractive with Yuletide suggestions.

Games formed the entertainment of the evening.

Mrs. Cora Smith, and Misses Alice May Rick, Esther Trent and Margaret Smith were special guests.

T. L. T. KENSINGTON PLANS PARTY EVENT

Mrs. Margaret Johnson opened her home on Superior street to members of the T. L. T. Kensington Friday evening when she entertained at their New Year's party. A good number participated and during the business period, plans were completed for the outstanding event on their calendar, a party in observance of the 20th anniversary of the club. This will take place at the home of Mrs. A. E. Horcher on the Mahoning road in two weeks. When the club was organized in 1913, thirteen members composed the group and the first meeting was held January 13.

A social time spent informally with games followed and after the serving of a dainty lunch by the hostess at one large table assisted by Miss Ethel Johnson, adjournment was called.

TIFEREH ISRAEL MEMBERS PLAN PLAYLET

Junior members of the Tifereth Israel Synagogue have everything completed for the playlet that will be given on Sunday evening, January 1 at 7:30 o'clock in the Synagogue entitled "Maccabean Cure," which they have been working on for sometime.

There is no admission charge and the play is being presented in significance of the Jewish Holiday Chanukia which is occurring this week and is open to everyone. A splendid cast has been secured.

Ten Ivory Club Party

The Ten Ivory Club members were entertained jointly by Mrs. Anthony Ciarella and Miss Martha Alcone at their home Thursday evening on South Mill street.

During the business session officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: president, Mary Maciarelli; vice president, Mrs. John Mastrangelo; secretary and treasurer, Theresa Fazio; correspondence secretary, Babe Mariarcello. Also, plans were discussed regarding a slumber party to take place at their next gathering.

Lunch was served at the close of the evening by the hostesses. Mrs. Carl Caffro was a special guest of the occasion.

In two weeks Mrs. Carl Scungion will receive members at her residence on East Lutton street.

The Ten Ivory Club organized in 1928.

LOYAL DAUGHTERS ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Members of the Loyal Daughters Class of the Second U. P. church met with Miss Martha Coulter on Harrison street Friday evening. Election of officers formed the main business transaction and those who will serve during the ensuing year include: Margaret Hoffman, president; Dorothy Hanna, vice president; Dorothy Allen, secretary; Martha Coulter, treasurer.

A period of games followed and Miss Olga Komarc was winner of the prize. Lunch was served by the hostess.

An appropriate time their president, Isabell Cotton presented a lovely gift to Miss Kathryn McMillen, teacher, in behalf of those assembled, as a token of appreciation for her interest in the class.

Hob-Nob-Club Slumber Party

The Hob-Nob Club members enjoyed a slumber party at the home of Miss Emily Reynolds on Fairfield avenue Thursday evening. The girls clad in gay colored pajamas, joined in a bridge contest during the early hours and at the close of play a delicious lunch was served. They returned to their homes Friday noon. Those who participated included the Misses Virginia Winder, Isabell Ralph, Barbara Nesbitt, Virginia Specht, Lily Bell Hill and the hostess Miss Reynolds. The latter was assisted with the evening's activities by her sister Esther.

The next regular meeting of the club will take place Monday January 9 at the home of Miss Barbara Nesbitt of Leasure avenue.

Mrs. Blackwood's Class Meets

An interesting meeting of members of the Sunday School Class taught by Mrs. James Blackwood of the Reformed Presbyterian church was held Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Edna Jenkins on Neshaunock avenue. Business items were discussed and plans were completed for many events to take place in 1933.

An informal social period followed and dainty refreshments were served. In January the members will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Blackwood on East Washington street.

Miller-Jones Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Miller, Ray street, announce the marriage of their daughter, Mary Ellen to Thos. B. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Jones, Mineral Ridge, Ohio.

The ceremony was performed on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the parsonage of the Madison Avenue Christian church, with Rev. W. W. Sniff officiating.

Mrs. Jones was formerly of Monongahela and graduated from the high school there. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Jones will reside at 1902 Highland avenue.

A. L. C. 500 Club Notes

The A. L. C. 500 club members enjoyed the hospitality extended Friday evening by Miss Winifred O'Connor, Spring street, who entertained informally at their usual social session. Cards were in order during the early hours with prizes going to Mrs. Dan Sullivan, Miss Elizabeth Mitchell and Mrs. James Barnes.

After the serving of a delicious repast by the hostess by Mrs. Margaret Crable, adjournment was called. In two weeks Mrs. Barnes will have the club at her home on Park avenue.

CLASS HAS DINNER IN CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Among the many lovely holiday dinners of the week, one of interest was that in the dining room of the First Christian church when the members of Mrs. E. W. Swan's class assembled for the annual event.

Poinsettias, greens and lighted tapers added a holiday tone to the table setting and a delicious dinner was served. Mrs. Esther Eakin, Mrs. Ralph Newingham and Mrs. Jessie Brown were in charge of the dinner arrangements.

An exchange of gifts featured the dinner hour and the class presented Mrs. E. W. Swan, the teacher, with a handsome quilt, each patch of which had been made by some member of the class. Mrs. Selma Fleeger, class president, made the presentation speech.

An election of officers featured the business meeting and Mrs. Ralph Newingham was named president. Mrs. Jessie Brown vice president, Mrs. Sarah McClintock secretary and Mrs. Helen Shaw treasurer. The members planned a Christmas savings club fund.

Mrs. Sarah McClintock and Mrs. Hazel Cooper were in charge of the entertainment and Miss Sarah Swan pleased with several vocal numbers.

OPEN HOUSE FOR FIELD CLUB MEMBERS MONDAY

Following another old custom, the Field Club will keep open house on New Year's, Monday January 2. Beginning at 2:30 o'clock bridge tables will be set up and throughout the afternoon play will continue with a light lunch being served at a convenient hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Quincy A. McBride will be in charge of this event, and the informality of the whole affair will bring to a delightful close the activities of the Yuletide season for Field Club members.

Farewell Party

Mrs. Sumner Rowland, Wallace avenue was hostess at a delightful little bridge party Friday evening when she entertained in honor of Mrs. Fred Allison, who will soon leave New Castle to make her home in Fairfield, Iowa.

Bridge was the entertainment of the evening hours and when play was concluded lovely prizes were awarded Mrs. Fred Wolford and Mrs. Ralph Newingham for high scores. Mrs. Allison was presented with a shower of lovely handkerchiefs.

The hostess was aided by her mother, Mrs. M. P. McKibben when she served a most appetizing menu of refreshments.

Entertainers Friends

The home of William and Leslie Dingley at New Bedford was the scene of a merry gathering on Wednesday evening when they entertained a group of friends at a party in celebration of the holiday season.

Cards, music and dancing were forms of pastimes and at a late hour a delicious repast was served to the following: Misses Elizabeth Ropp, Virginia Dingley, Mabel Harry, Georgetta and Kathryn Wortman, Charlotte Whiting and Leslie Dingley, Messrs. Theodore Ropp, Raymond Whiting, Charles and John Greenwalt, Kenneth Maines, David Wortman, James Whiting and William Dingley.

THE DAY WE RESOLUTE

DR. SAMUEL JOHNSON was in the habit of observing certain days with "a pious abstraction," according to Boswell. One of these days was New Year's Day; another was his birthday. On these occasions he reviewed his life, and having found it far from his ideal, made resolutions of amendment. On one of these occasions he wrote: "I have now spent 55 years in resolving; having, from the earliest time almost that I can remember, been forming schemes of a better life. I have done nothing. The need of doing, therefore, is pressing, since the time of doing is short." And he added a prayer "to resolve aright, and to keep my resolutions."

Here is an example for us. New Year's Day is a fine day for a check-up, and a little pious abstraction can do us all good. A headache from staying up to welcome in the New Year may help in the desire for a more strict ordering of our lives. Of course we may consider the futility of making good resolutions; we have made them in the past, and broken them in no time. But in this respect we are no worse off than Dr. Johnson, with his 55 years of resolving, and nothing accomplished. Indeed, the strong-minded among us can consider the possibility of excelling the learned Doctor by sticking to some good resolution. "I have made no reformation," he once set down, after one of his pious abstractions. "I have lived totally useless, more sensual in thought, and more addicted to wine and meat. . . . A kind of strange oblivion has overspread me, so that I know not what has become of the last year; and perceive that incidents and intelligence pass over me without leaving any impression. This is not the life to which heaven is promised." And he made some more resolutions.

We of today (to judge by observation) do not worry as much about the promise of heaven as did our ancestors. But if we resolve to be kinder, to drive more carefully, to eat less, to work a bit harder, to pay our taxes, to live within our income, to clean the snow from our sidewalks, to keep our tires at the proper pressure, to be more charitable about the sins of other people and less charitable about our own, we may, with the good Doctor Johnson, better our chances of heaven while we shall certainly improve our conduct on earth.

Provided, of course, we keep our resolutions.

THE BUY AMERICA MOVEMENT

Officials of the importers association are beginning to sit up and take notice of the way the "Buy America" movement is growing over the United States. The default of certain European nations on their debt payments has given impetus to the movement.

The importer-propagandists gave vent to the old bogey that was raised during the fight on the Smoot-Hawley tariff—to the effect that if we participate as a nation in a movement to buy goods made only in America, foreign countries will retaliate. The import-guild fails to take cognizance of the fact that the movement of buying at home started in Europe and that in Great Britain it has grown so airtight that newspapers, magazines and billboards are full of it. British subjects are spending their vacations on the English channel instead of the Mediterranean coast, and wherever possible are buying only British produced goods. The movement over there has grown to fine proportions. The other day the newspapers carried a cable dispatch that tobacco sauce has been placed on the blacklist because it has to be imported. Tobacco—that is, real tobacco—comes principally from Louisiana, and it is to be expected that the Honorable Huey Long will take due note of this attack on his sovereign state.

But why shouldn't British people spend their money at home and why shouldn't people in America do the same thing? The old argument about the ten per cent of our production which goes abroad being more important than the ninety per cent we use at home is growing pretty thin. If the American industries could have the difference between what they sold at home in 1929 and what they sold in 1932 most of them would be willing to forget all about exports. But if the wishes of the importbund were followed we would turn over our great home market in the expectancy of getting a market abroad which exists only in the fertile imaginations of the gentlemen who are seeking to get imported goods into America at a profit to themselves.

Let us by all means have foreign trade but let it be built up not at the expense of the American producer. More than fifty per cent of our imports now come to America duty free. This talk about a tariff wall having been built around America is the bunk. Maybe we would be better off if we had such a wall. At any rate the depreciation of foreign currency has destroyed what protection the American producer had, in many lines, and we need some sort of a barrier until the world money is stabilized. To say that this could be brought about by buying abroad and throwing the rest of our labor out of jobs, is a little too thick to go down. Outside of the die-hard theoretical free traders, only one who expected to profit financially by flooding the country with foreign goods would advance it.

A paragraph or two from a recent issue of the soundly American Saturday Evening Post very tersely sums up the situation with regard to the Buy-America movement:

"England, France and Germany have their internal troubles and dissensions, but when there is an external threat against their trade or their prestige Englishmen line up shoulder to shoulder for England, Frenchmen for France, Germans for Germany. This is as it should be, for it is the plain duty of every man to consider his own fireside and his own country first. European countries are national to the core where their own affairs are concerned, and are internationalists solely for a national advantage. Only a mind of sugar-plum sweetness could arrive at a different conclusion on surveying the European scene. . . ."

"America must tighten her lines, not by way of reprisal but for self-protection. Europe has made the game; two can play it. Think American, buy American."

FORGETTING THINGS

We are frequently told to "use our brains" but sometimes the brain is like a wayward child or a stubborn man who refuses to take orders. You meet a friend, some one you have known for years, and suddenly his name fades completely from your memory. You know his habits, know what he likes to eat, know what he does for a living, you know his name begins with a "T" and ends with a "y". But you cannot remember the letters in between. You fuss over it and struggle desperately and command your memory to restore that name to your tongue, but it declines.

Or you read one of those ghastly questionnaires whose purpose, supposedly, is to determine how much you know—and you come across a question that troubles you immensely. You know the answer. Of course you do. It is right on the tip of your tongue. It is somewhere in the darkness behind your eyes. . . . It goes away and comes again. . . . You can hear the flap of its wings and almost feel them upon your brain cavity, like the soft, sudden rush of a bat in an old barn. . . . But it is elusive, as annoying as a little Cocker Spaniel puppy that evades your every effort to catch him.

So you pretend you're not trying to remember that answer, that puppy-like bit of information. You sit down to your newspaper. You busy yourself with something else. . . . And suddenly when you are not trying, it comes back to you. That puppy of information comes right up to your knee and snuggles against it and wags his tail. You feel very silly indeed. You wonder if there's any way to train your brain so that it will do just what you order and function like a perfect machine.

But you're afraid there isn't. Your brain is yours. It's inside your own skull. You've known it fairly well for years. But it plays "hooky" on us. And sometimes when you want to "use your brains" you discover that they want to do something else. . . . It's mortifying, that's what it is. It's humiliating.

Dear Editor: Congratulations on your Buy American editorial in the Wednesday issue of The News. I just noticed an item in the Iron Age for December 29th which shows that during the first eleven months of 1932, 7,246 gross tons (8130 net tons) of tinplate were imported into the United States as against 179 gross tons in 1931. 8130 net tons is almost two full weeks work for the 40 mills of the Shenango Tin Mill. The fact that 40 times as much tinplate was imported in 1932 as in 1931 shows that the folks of New Castle have a large interest in "Buy American".

Changed Sentiment On Beer In Congress Is Impressive

National Comment Reveals Great Interest In Future Prospects Of Legislation Fixing Alcoholic Content And Providing For Distribution Of Liquor

The vote in the House of Representatives in favor of legislation for taxation of beer with alcohol to the percentage of 3.2 by weight is viewed by the country as a surprising change of sentiment in Congress. It is recognized that there are uncertainties as to the future, but some attention is given to the possible method by which the beverage will reach the consumer.

Conceding that a flood of such beer will not ruin the country, and "will not fill the gutters with drunk men," the WASHINGTON EVENING STAR argues: "It will denote a deplorable failure, by responsible legislators, to conceive the liquor problem as one that still requires careful and mature consideration. The beer bill merely complicates the problem and offers no solution. It suggests serious doubt of our ability as a Nation to do anything about the liquor problem unless we do it by extremes."

"Passage of the Collier Bill by a vote of 230 to 165," says the ROCK ISLAND ARGUS, "marks the first real victory achieved by the wet cause in 12 years," and that paper recalls that "the largest vote for beer previously recorded in the House was cast last May, when the vote polled a total of 169 votes as against a dry vote of 228." The CHARLESTON (S. C.) EVENING POST comments on "the great program" pointing out that "heretofore this Congress could not be moved to give its countenance to beer of any content beyond that specified by Mr. Volstead one half of one percent."

The striking change in strength of the wet cause is brought out in comment by the SCRANTON TIMES, which quotes the argument that prohibition was "put over by a minority," and that "it never represented the thought and will of the majority." The CLEVELAND NEWS predicts "scrapping of the bungle-some machinery of prohibition and the approval of a sensible method of bottling the liquor problem so as to safeguard dry States and put the bootlegger out of business."

The PROVIDENCE BULLETIN holds that the action was due to the "overwhelming sentiment of the voters in the last election," and the OSHKOSH DAILY NORTHWESTERN, interpreting the development as "history making," adds: "The vote revealed 133 Democrats and 96 Republicans and one Farmer-Laborite were for legalizing beer as provided in the bill, while 64 Democrats and 101 Republicans voted in opposition. In the final lineup favoring modification were 17 Democrats and 43 Republicans who are 'lame ducks,' members who will not return to the house in the next Congress. 'Lame ducks' opposing the measure included 12 Democrats and 69 Republicans, a total of 81." The LOUISVILLE COURIER-JOURNAL agrees that "the great majority of the House members are convinced that prohibition was an issue in the election."

"That the experiment of beer of low per cent is worth making goes without saying," in the opinion of the TOLEDO BLADE, and the CHICAGO TRIBUNE, noting the separation of beer and wine in legislation, remarks: "The interim provision for a palatable malt beverage contains a benefit both for the relief of an overtaxed country and for the revival of a sense of adult competence. The wine producing states may think it inequitable that their product cannot go along with the emancipation of beer, but they should reason that their cause cannot be aided by obstructing the release of privileges as to beer."

A court contest is suggested as a possibility by the ROANOKE WORLD-NEWS and the OAKLAND TRIBUNE, while thoughts of a veto are indicated by the MINNEAPOLIS JOURNAL. The BOSTON TRANSCRIPT voices the criticism: "The best friends of eventual repeal are not the wets who are stumbling over themselves to give a doubtful beer to the people. The dries have insisted upon rigorous observance of the law of the land. The wets should not be behind them in respect for orderly procedure."

"In the beer discussion in and out of Congress," says the PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN, "it has appeared that there is a definite purpose to bring back the bar-room and the bar. Brewers apparently believe that there will be more beer bought standing up than can be sold by service out of a bottle to seated thrills. There have been a few who have ventured to bring out the old plea for the bar-room as the poor man's club. The omission of an anti-saloons clause in the Collier bill was not an oversight or a matter of neglect. Senator Bingham's earlier beer bill, and others introduced at the previous session of Congress sought to ban the bar, as a concession to the sentiment sometimes described as 'moist,' or near-wet. But since the election, the advocates of beer have grown bolder."

This new upheaval also in the DANCING EVENING NEWS. "It doesn't mean much to our State," avers the OKLAHOMA CITY TIMES, "with Constitutional prohibition, which lists beer with the forbidden beverages, and a bone dry law meant to curb all traffic in intoxicants, but other states, which lack such provisions in statute or basic law, must adjust themselves to the change. The results of this modification will have a bearing on later attempts to repeal the eighteenth amendment. With a three-fourths majority of the states required for ratification of repeal, that change in our liquor regulations seems much less likely than legalized beer. The last election proved a change in sentiment toward prohibition on the part of many people, the more evident because several states repealed their own prohibition measures. It is doubtful, however, if the swing will prove sufficient to make a 'wet majority' in three-fourths of the states."

THE ERRORS OF OTHERS

DO YOU KNOW HIM?

He's the life of the party.

He's always the last to arrive. Things never have started when he comes.

He asks loudly, "Whose funeral?" and everyone does his or her best to seem peppy.

He breaks into conversation with your girl friend, changes the subject immediately to some current event, tells the latest slightly off-color stories, and then gets to the point with the question, "Got a cigarette?"

He's the best dancer in the crowd. If he stands in the stag line for a minute, the best looking girls give him a wink as a signal for cutting in.

He knows all the latest wise cracks. He has a "line." He keeps the partners in constant laughter. He holds the floor most of the time—anyone who tries to break in he scorns or, who others hiss. He loves to pun, but assumes a look of intense agony when anyone else does.

He does card tricks. There's someone like him at every party. The hostess when making up her list of guests always says: "Ask some one with lots of life. Let's see—I think I'll ask"—and he comes.

He's the life of the party. I hate him.

Reformed Church New Year Service

Dr. E. A. Crooks, pastor of the Reformed Presbyterian church, announces that he will take the outstanding facts from the past year and the outlook for the New Year as the theme of his sermon at the 11 a. m. service Sunday.

The evening service will be in charge of Elder M. W. McClelland and a ten minute discussion of the question "If God is a God of Love why are the innocent suffering in the world?" The special music will be in charge of David Rees.

New Pastor Here Sunday

Second U. P. Congregation
To Welcome New Pastor,
Rev. C. K. McGeorge

COMES HERE FROM STEBENVILLE, OHIO

REV. C. K. MCGEORGE

The congregation of the Second United Presbyterian church, County Line street, will welcome its new pastor, Rev. C. K. McGeorge, at the Sunday services, and he will have as his morning theme "Christ Our Saviour" and for evening he will speak on "The Person You Would Like To Be."

Rev. Chauncey Kirk, McGeorge, D. D. was born at New Galilee, Beaver county and was educated in the Greensburg Academy, Darlington; at Muskingum College and the Pittsburgh Theological seminary. He is of Covenant ancestry.

Dr. McGeorge was licensed to preach by the Beaver Valley Presbytery at a meeting held in the First United Presbyterian church of this city. He began his ministry in Westmoreland Presbytery, but was soon called to Coraopolis and soon after his arrival the congregation at the church plant and a large stone church was erected. Then he was called to the Second United Presbyterian church of Steubenville, Ohio, and soon after his coming to that pastorate the congregation needed a larger church and the beautiful new building was erected five years ago. Dr. McGeorge is often referred to as a "church builder."

He has served in three pastorates and each congregation, because of its growth through his ministry, has been compelled to erect a larger edifice.

Dr. McGeorge and his family expect to move to New Castle the first week of January and they will live at 922 Winslow avenue. Beaver Valley Presbytery will meet at the Second United Presbyterian church in January to install Dr. McGeorge as pastor.

New Baptist Pastor Will Preach Sunday

REV. CHARLES H. HEATON

The first Sunday of the New Year will see the pulpit of the First Baptist church filled by the new pastor, Rev. Charles H. Heaton, who comes here from Chicago, Ill.

Rev. Heaton and his wife arrived in the city the latter part of the week, but as yet have chosen no residence here.

Mr. Heaton will teach the men's Bible class at the Sunday School session and at the morning service he will preach on "The Glory of God" and his evening theme will be "The Love of God."

Christmas Pageant At Epworth Church

The "First Christmas" Will Be Celebrated In Story And Song, With Lantern
Slides

Sunday evening at 7:30 the junior choir of the Epworth Methodist church, under the direction of Miss Lillian Andrews, will present a pageant telling the story of the first Christmas. Christmas music will be sung as verses from the Bible story are read.

During the first scene which shows the appearance of the angel to the shepherds, the choir will sing "The First Noel" and "Cradle Hymn." As the shepherds go in search of the infant Jesus, the choir will sing "O Little Town of Bethlehem." During the singing of this hymn a picture of the town of Bethlehem will be thrown on the wall.

The second scene shows Mary and Joseph and the manger as the shepherds and wise men come to worship the baby Jesus. During this scene the choir will sing "Silent Night," "Under the Stars," "Once in Royal David's City" and "We Three Kings of Orient Are." Soloists will be Leanna Morgan, Ann Pyle, Richard McGough and Francis Kennedy.

After the pageant Rev. J. A. Galbraith will show beautiful lantern pictures of Bethany, Nazareth, Jerusalem, the Sea of Galilee and the Jordan river. While the Sea of Galilee is shown "Miss Helen Allen will sing 'O Galilee'."

The program will close with the congregation singing "Break Thou the Bread of Life" from lantern slides.

Those taking special parts in the pageant are as follows: The Three Kings—Lenore Ann Pyle and Francis Kennedy. Mary—Miss Margaret Williams. Joseph and the shepherds—Members of C. R. Potter's Sunday school class.

The Angel—Miss Emily Reynolds. The reader—Norman E. Clark.

Stock Market
Quiet And Firm

Steady Tone As Last Trading Of 1932 Is Recorded

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—The stock market ended 1932 on a quiet and steady tone. Trading was dull and price changes in the majority of stocks were of no significance.

Expectations that the market would be given a whirl for year-end mark-up purposes failed to materialize, yesterday's rally having accomplished a good deal of this.

Isolated issues received special attention, notably Crucible Steel which was marked up sharply.

Cash sales were again heavy as those who waited for the last minute to take tax losses sold their stocks in today's abbreviated session.

Copper stocks were stimulated by further strength in Kennecott, which went to a new high on the move in heavy dealings. There was no news to account for the activity in the group.

Tobacco stocks showed further scattered pressure on uncertainty over the cigarette price situation but losses were small compared with yesterday's weakness.

Leading stocks marked time. American Telephone and Allied Chemical held around the previous close while the U. S. Steel issues were firm.

Persistent buying in New York Central firm the railroad group but gains were of a minor nature. Utilities were steady.

The market showed considerable selectivity in the final dealings. While buying came into the rails and steels, other issues, particularly United Aircraft, were under pressure.

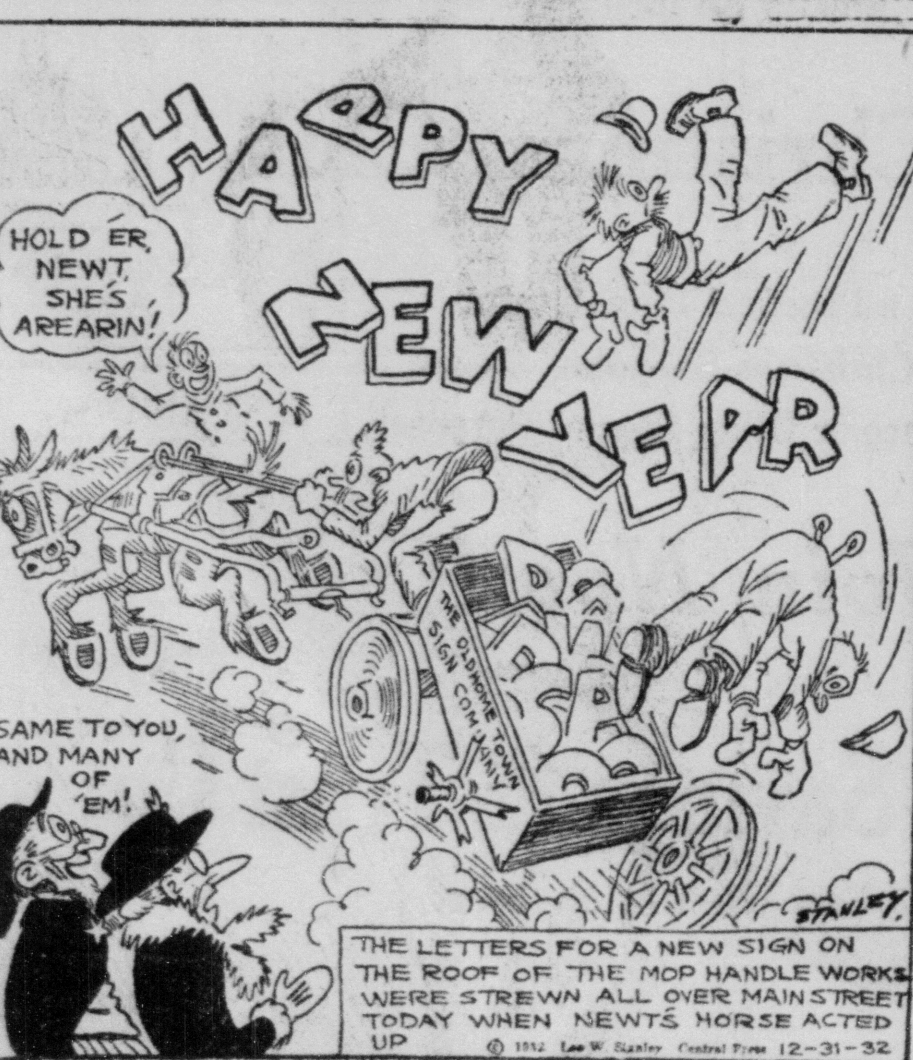

Outside markets were steady. Further strength in U. S. obligations was outstanding in the bond market. Wheat was firm. The cotton market was closed for the holidays.

Mrs. Rhoda Main of Ellport, who has been confined to her home for several weeks by illness, is slowly improving.

The Roben of Butler has returned home after visiting with relatives here for the past several days.

Mrs. Leah Duncan and sons Edward and Jack, of Portersville, were visitors at Ellwood Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Turley of Pittsburgh have returned home after spending sometime as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Aldrich of North Sewickley township.

B. J. Bell left for Warren, Pa., to- day.

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 31.—The Misses Isabel and Helen Hardie proved to be charming hostesses last evening when they entertained in a pleasing manner a group of friends who gathered at their home at North Sewickley for the evening.

Three tables of 500 were in play during the evening and at the conclusion of the games Cleo Bowers, Lee Gallaher and Carl Richards were presented the awards. At a late hour delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Guests of the evening were Elizabeth Balaz, Cleo Bowers, Dorothy Harde, Isabel and Helen Hardie, Lawrence Vinroe, Andy Gallaher, Lewis Hardie, Carl Richards, Edward Vinroe and Lee Gallaher.

FUNERAL RITES
ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 31.—Funeral rites for Miss Malissa Dowlin aged resident of Marion township who died Thursday afternoon following an illness of one month caused by a complication of diseases were held yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock from the Baptist church at Carmichael.

The services were widely attended by bereaved relatives and friends. Interment was made in the Carmichael cemetery.

ELDERS MEET
ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 31.—The elders of the First Christian church held their regular meeting in the church rooms last night at which time they nominated church officers for the year. An election will be held at the watch meeting tonight.

The program will begin at 8 o'clock.

Wesleyan Class

Yule Party Held
By Reading Circle

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 31.—An enjoyable meeting was held by the members of the O. S. G. Reading Circle Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. P. Morrison on Crescent avenue where they assembled for their annual yule party. There were nine members and one special guest, Mrs. E. C. Harrison, present on the occasion.

An appetizing chicken dinner inaugurated the events of the day. It was served at a table beautifully decorated with Christmas appointments. An exchange of gifts was then held after which those present enjoyed the remainder of the day with games and contests. The next meeting of the circle will take place at the home of Mrs. W. J. Aggas on Park avenue on the last Friday of January.

B. Y. F. Members
Entertain Husbands
ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 31.—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jackson delightfully entertained the members of the B. Y. F. club and their husbands last evening at their home on the Ellwood Country club road. Mr. and Mrs. Sharp Jackson were special guests on the occasion.

A delicious 6 o'clock Christmas dinner served at a table cleverly appointed with the prevailing colors was thoroughly enjoyed by the guests present. After the dinner the guests heard a communion in an adjoining room and upon investigating found that Santa Claus had invaded the home. Each one was presented with a gift by this well known personage.

Later cards at four tables, games, contests and singing carols were enjoyed. Mrs. George Rapp invited the club to meet at her home on Fountain avenue in two weeks for their next regular meeting.

ATTENDING FUNERAL SERVICES
ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 31.—E. S. Hazen, A. F. Hazen, S. G. Hazen all of Pittsburg, and Mrs. Bertha Brown of Youngstown, left Thursday morning by motor for Ft. Madison, Iowa where they will attend the funeral services of their brother, Dr. Edward Hazen.

The deceased was a son of the late Smith and Mary Jane Nye Hazen, early pioneer settlers of Franklin township and was well known to the older residents of this district having been born and raised at the Hazen homestead at North Sewickley. He is survived by his wife and two daughters and one brother, I. R. Hazen of North Lima, O., who was unable to attend the funeral.

Incidentally just four years ago at this time the same party made the trip to Ft. Madison to attend the celebration of the golden wedding anniversary of their brother and his wife.

CLASS PARTY
ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 31.—The members of the Friendship Circle class of the Providence Baptist church at North Sewickley were entertained in a pleasing manner on Thursday afternoon at the home of Miss Doris Cable of the Beaver Falls road when they gathered there for a Christmas party.

The hostess assisted by her mother, Mrs. Walter Cable served pleasing refreshments.

CHURCH SERVICES
ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 31.—Tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock Sunday school will be held at the Hickory Knoll Church of God with Frank Dunbar, the superintendent in charge. Church services will be at 3 o'clock with the pastor, Rev. Harold Woods delivering the sermon. At 7 o'clock the Christian Endeavor society will hold their regular meeting.

WATCH NIGHT SERVICE
ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 31.—The Alliance mission on Bell avenue will hold the usual watch-night service this evening beginning at 9 o'clock. An interesting and varied program has been arranged including special music, a Bible reading entitled "Glimpses of Jesus" and the partaking of communion.

NEW YEAR'S SERVICE
ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 31.—A community watch night service will be held this evening at 11 o'clock in the Providence Baptist church, North Sewickley. There will be a special program and music. The pastor, Rev. J. R. Routledge will deliver an address on "The Old and the New."

ENTERTAINS FRIENDS
ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 31.—Mrs. George E. Moyer entertained a number of friends at her home on Fountain avenue last night. The evening was spent in a social manner with games, contests, and cards. Lunch was served at a later hour.

P. H. C. MEETING
ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 31.—Bairst Circle No. 123 of the P. H. C. will hold its regular semi-monthly meeting Tuesday night, January 3, in the Schweitzer hall at 7:30.

HOSPITAL NOTES
ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 31.—Admitted Friday: Mrs. Frank Wolfe of Thirteenth street and Caroline Magill of Zellenople.

REVEAL POOR TEETH
(International News Service)
BOSTON.—Ninety-five per cent of the children in Boston elementary schools have decayed teeth, and 85 per cent have irregular teeth, according to Dr. Frederick R. Blumenthal, chief of the Orthodontic clinic of the Forsyth Infirmary.

Court Of Honor
Held At Shelby

Many Awards Given To Ellwood City Boy Scouts At Monthly Affair

SCOUT OFFICIALS
PRESIDE AT EVENT

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 31.—Ellwood City Boy Scouts were honored last night at the Shelby club house when the monthly Court of Honor was held in the auditorium. A fine turnout of scouts and the public featured the affair.

Several notables of scoutdom were present at this time. Among them were H. C. Horton, county executive; E. K. Herbert, field executive; John Lindgren, chairman of the Court of Honor Jack Pearson, scout commissioner; E. D. Danner, deputy scout commissioner; J. L. Ferrante, scoutmaster Wampum Troop No. 1; N. J. Bauer, committee man St. Agatha Troop No. 2; James H. Herford; and F. L. Herbert. Each of these had a part in the awarding of the various badges.

Three scouts received special honors at this time. They were Frank Maclogie of the Y. I. C. C. Troop No. 3, who was presented with a life scout badge; Adam Izzo of the same troop, a Star scout badge; and Joseph Wilson of Methodist Troop No. 14, a first class scout badge. Receiving second class badges were Robert Kissick, Kiwanis Troop 11; Wilfred Martin, Wampum Troop 1; and Albert Porter, Wampum Troop 1.

Those receiving merit badges were J. L. Ferrante, Joseph Procopia of Wampum 1; Louis Parkas of Shelby Troop 7; Angelo De Mauro and Sam Ricciuti of the Y. I. C. C. No. 3; Jack Gelbach and Robert Sprague of Methodist 14 Ellwood.

The cost of collecting taxes in Lawrence county amounts to approximately $50,000 per year, which is too high. There are too many agencies collecting taxes, the committee pointed out, recommending one central tax collection office, preferably the county treasurer, who with six clerks, could collect all taxes for a cost of around $900 a year. These clerks would be paid $1200 per year, and could go out into the outlying districts of the county periodically and where the taxes would be brought to them and they would issue receipts for the same.

The committee on cost of elections with plans for reducing the same was reported by Ralph D. Snyder, chairman; the others on this committee were Bart Richards, Wilfred Baer, R. E. Coray, George Meyers and W. J. Caldwell, legal advisor.

The committee reported that there were 34 city voting precincts and 50 county precincts. The cost of conducting the elections in 1931 was $36,431.95. The methods of conducting such elections and the cost of the same was fixed by statutes of the Commonwealth and thus could only be changed by them.

Election Costs Bared.
The committee recommended reducing registrars from $10 to $5; and rental of buildings for election purposes from $10 to $5; the aforementioned sums being what is now paid.

Judges of election, inspectors, and clerks are paid at the rate of $5 per day, with $1 per hundred votes cast over the first hundred. This was felt to be too high, as many of these officials work from 12 to 24 hours for this sum of money.

Recommendations for registration in the county districts be combined with property assessment, and that registration of voters run for a period of three years at least, instead of being made every year, was made by the committee.

The committee on salaries of county officers and employees with a plan for the salary schedule was reported by S. R. Huey, chairman, who with C. H. Milholland, Tad E. Shields, George Ferver, C. A. Stewart with Alvah Shumaker as legal counsel comprised the committee.

Mr. Huey stated that this report had been published in detail in The News last week, and only reported on the maximum cuts for each office suggested, without going into detail.

The committee on salaries of city officers and employees was reported in by C. H. Akens, chairman, with whom were associated Lee Gordon, John M. Bevan, Edward J. Davis, George L. Henderson with J. Elder Bryan as legal counsel.

Mr. Akens read the provisions of the Third Class City law which fixed the salaries, which in the case of mayor ranged from a minimum of $500 to a maximum of $2520. In cities of 30,000 to 50,000 inhabitants, it could not be less than $2550 and may be made more by city ordinance.

Charles Sherman left for Pittsburgh on Thursday to spend several days with relatives.

Russell Blythe, who has been confined to his home with illness, is now recovered and is able to return to work.

Vincent Stewart, who is a student at Western Reserve university in Cleveland, spent a short visit with his parents.

Hay And Grain

they should resign their positions and seek work elsewhere where they could receive the true compensation which they believed they were worth. "If every policeman in New Castle, even though he were receiving but $85 were to step out tonight, and the fact became generally known, there would be a lineup of men stretching from here down to the diamond in the morning who would be anxious to take their places," he stated.

Committee Report.
Following the reading of the minutes of the meeting held December 8, at the court house, President J. W. Pattison called on the various committees which had been named at that time to give a report on their findings.

The report of the committee on cost assessment of local taxes, of which W. M. Yuen was chairman, was rendered by Mr. Nunn. Others on this committee were A. E. Yoho, Guy Lookhart, Fred Knoll, J. W. Cox with M. L. Alley legal adviser.

Mr. Nunn stated that his committee had ascertained that the assessed value of the city proper was $57,095,900, which raised $555,232.98 in taxes.

The cost of assessing this property was approximately $2340 per year, but was done triennially. The actual cost of assessment was therefore but thirty-eight one-hundredths of one per cent. Objection was made to the method employed in assessing, particularly in the rural districts. One man goes into a district and assesses according to his yardstick, and perhaps makes the assessment 30 per cent of the true value, and perhaps the property alongside, in another township, is assessed by another assessor at 60 per cent of the value. The committee pointed out, recommending one central tax collection office, who would be appointed and selected on their ability, to be paid a salary of $2,500 per year. Four such men would cost $10,000, whereas assessment in the county now costs about $18,000 per year.

Tax Collection Cost.
The cost of collecting taxes in Lawrence county amounts to approximately $50,000 per year, which is too high. There are too many agencies collecting taxes, the committee pointed out, recommending one central tax collection office, preferably the county treasurer, who with six clerks, could collect all taxes for a cost of around $900 a year. These clerks would be paid $1200 per year, and could go out into the outlying districts of the county periodically and where the taxes would be brought to them and they would issue receipts for the same.

The committee on cost of elections with plans for reducing the same was reported by Ralph D. Snyder, chairman; the others on this committee were Bart Richards, Wilfred Baer, R. E. Coray, George Meyers and W. J. Caldwell, legal advisor.

The committee reported that there were 34 city voting precincts and 50 county precincts. The cost of conducting the elections in 1931 was $36,431.95. The methods of conducting such elections and the cost of the same was fixed by statutes of the Commonwealth and thus could only be changed by them.

Election Costs Bared.
The committee recommended reducing registrars from $10 to $5; and rental of buildings for election purposes from $10 to $5; the aforementioned sums being what is now paid.

Judges of election, inspectors, and clerks are paid at the rate of $5 per day, with $1 per hundred votes cast over the first hundred. This was felt to be too high, as many of these officials work from 12 to 24 hours for this sum of money.

Recommendations for registration in the county districts be combined with property assessment, and that registration of voters run for a period of three years at least, instead of being made every year, was made by the committee.

The committee on salaries of county officers and employees with a plan for the salary schedule was reported by S. R. Huey, chairman, who with C. H. Milholland, Tad E. Shields, George Ferver, C. A. Stewart with Alvah Shumaker as legal counsel comprised the committee.

Mr. Huey stated that this report had been published in detail in The News last week, and only reported on the maximum cuts for each office suggested, without going into detail.

The committee on salaries of city officers and employees was reported in by C. H. Akens, chairman, with whom were associated Lee Gordon, John M. Bevan, Edward J. Davis, George L. Henderson with J. Elder Bryan as legal counsel.

Mr. Akens read the provisions of the Third Class City law which fixed the salaries, which in the case of mayor ranged from a minimum of $500 to a maximum of $2520. In cities of 30,000 to 50,000 inhabitants, it could not be less than $2550 and may be made more by city ordinance.

Charles Sherman left for Pittsburgh on Thursday to spend several days with relatives.

Russell Blythe, who has been confined to his home with illness, is now recovered and is able to return to work.

Vincent Stewart, who is a student at Western Reserve university in Cleveland, spent a short visit with his parents.

City Officials To Return Part Of Their Wages

Genkinger And Treser Decide To Cut Themselves Another 10 Per Cent

ALL RETURNED 10 PER CENT IN 1932

During their last formal session of 1932, held at city hall today, Mayor Mayne and Councilmen Davies, Genkinger, Hoyland and Treser announced they would contribute a portion of their 1933 salaries to the general revenue fund.

During 1932, each of the officials contributed 10 per cent of their salaries to the fund.

Next year Mayor Mayne, Councilmen Davies and Hoyland will give the same amount.

Councilmen Treser and Genkinger said they would take another cut which will be a 10 per cent cut from their 1933 salary.

City Controller Greer, City Solicitor White and City Engineer Hoskins will also return 10 per cent of their wages.

The salaries to be paid beginning in January, 1933, follow:

Mayor Mayne, $2,700; Councilmen Treser and Genkinger, $2,430, and Councilmen Davies and Hoyland, $2,250; solicitor, $2,700; engineer, $2,700, and controller, $2,700.

Before Mayor Mayne and Councilmen Davies and Hoyland were selected the Gillespie ordinance making their respective salaries was passed over the negative votes of Treser and Genkinger who were members of the Gillespie administration.

The ordinance set the salary for the incoming mayor at $3,000 instead of $3,600, as act of assembly allowed.

During 1932, the mayor, Hoyland and Davies took a 10 per cent cut from the figures set by the Gillespie ordinance.

Councilmen Genkinger and Treser also took a 10 per cent cut of their salaries which under the law was $3,000.

The mayor, Davies and Hoyland today agreed to continue taking the cut in 1933. However, Treser and Genkinger decided they would cut themselves 10 per cent below their 1932 wage which was $2,700, net.

GETS FIVE DAYS IN COUNTY JAIL

Thomas Evans of Mahoning avenue, charged by Corporal Lawton of the state highway patrol, with operating a motor vehicle without being properly registered, was remanded to the county jail for five days by Alderman W. J. Ewing when unable to pay the fine of $10 which was assessed.

APPROVE PAYROLL
Council today approved the payroll for officials last monthly pay of 1932.

To Open Bond Bids Monday

Sinking Fund Commission To Be Among Bidders At City Hall

Council will meet for the first time next year Monday morning in council chambers, city building, and bids for the sale of $60,000 worth of 4 1-4 per cent, serial coupon, 20 year bonds, will be opened. An award may be made. Among the bidders will be the Sinking Fund commission, composed of Mayor Mayne, Director of Finance Hoyland and Treasurer Louis McClung. The commission has in charge the Sinking Fund for the various bonds of the city.

The reason for the investing of the Sinking Fund money in the bonds is to save for the city the difference between two per cent they get for deposits at banks and 4 1-4 per cent the bonds will bring. If they are successful in the bidding Monday it will mean a saving to the city of 2 1-4 per cent for the Sinking Fund.

Gus Hammer Goes On Honor Roll Of B. & O. System

One Of The Best Liked Employees Of The Entire System

Gus Hammer, veteran employee of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad today at three o'clock completed forty-eight years of active faithful service with that company, as a pipefitter and tinsmith, in the New Castle Shops.

A faithful employee, he was also the friend of his fellow workmen and is esteemed alike by the officials and the employees of the company with whom he came in contact.

He came here from Pittsburgh and has seen his entire period of service at the local shops. During his nearly half a century of service here, he has been foreman of the pipefitting department and held other positions of trust and importance.

He served as chairman of the pipefitters committee at New Castle Junction, has been president of the New Castle Division of the Baltimore and Ohio Veterans Association and has been a member of both the advisory and operating committees of the Relief Department of the Entire System, a very great honor for any employee, as these persons are selected by the vote of the employees of the system.

Other than a trip to California in the near future, Mr. Hammer's future program is not known at this time, but it is anticipated that he will continue to make New Castle his headquarters at times at least.

Report Gibson Baby Is Dead

Death Comes To Mary Joan Gibson, Born To Society Girl Out Of Wedlock

ALL DETAILS ARE WITHHELD

(International News Service)
TAPPAN, N. Y., Dec. 31.—Tragedy centered again today on the home of Robert Gibson, socially registered attorney.

The 12-day-old daughter of Charlotte Gibson died yesterday at the home of its extra-legal grandparents.

From the Gibson family, racked by the recent trial of Sidney Homewood, dapper young riding master-father of the child and convicted seducer of her mother, came only a brief announcement of the death.

"Mary Joan died this morning," Robert Gibson announced in answer to telephone inquiries. Later, from Sheriff Thomas M. Farley, friend of the family, it was learned Gibson explained the child "just wasted away" from complications.

Divorced Couple Decide To Re-Marry

Conclude That They Do Really Love Each Other Despite Court Decree

It's not often that a divorced couple decide to re-marry within less than two months after they have been divorced, but Justice of the Peace, H. M. Reynolds of Union township, performed a little ceremony this morning that united William Piotrowski of Akron, O., and Mrs. Marie Piotrowski, of Cleveland, O., for the second time.

The couple were granted a divorce in Ohio on Nov. 21, 1932, according to their statements. The grounds alleged in the application were gross neglect. After the decree had been granted a reconciliation was effected. The couple decided that had all been a mistake, that they loved each other, and couldn't possibly live in single blessedness.

They communicated with Justice of the Peace Reynolds, who arranged to secure them a marriage license. He had the papers all ready for them when they drove up to his home on the Youngstown road this morning. In a few minutes they were again husband and wife and happy once more. Reynolds used the ring ceremony, with members of his family as witnesses.

Sands Recommends Assessment Cuts

Assessor Sands today sent a communication to council which recommended a decrease of $1,300 in the ground assessment of J. S. Abel and S. Ed. Smith at 228 South Croton avenue and also a reduction of $1,800 of the warehouse assessment.

Sands reported the assessments were out of proportion with other assessments. The cuts will be effective in 1933. The recommendation was accepted by council which met in the city building.

RECEIVE NEWS OF FORMER RESIDENT

Announcement has been received here of the wedding of Miss Enid Cerydwen Williams, daughter of Mrs. Evan Williams of New York, formerly of New Castle, to Cyril Edgson Portugal on Saturday, December 17. The wedding was performed by Rev. Lucius Aaron Edelbute, of the Church of the Holy Apostles.

Mrs. Portugal is a graduate of New Castle high school and of Broadus College, Phillippi, W. Va., where she was an instructor in the biology laboratory. She has been doing post-graduate work in New York University recently.

Mr. Portugal is a native of London, England, a graduate of Bishop Latimer's School and attended Columbia University. He is associated with the Chemical Bank and Trust Company of New York.

The wedding was solemnized in the bride's home at 587 Riverside Drive, New York, and was attended by the members of the immediate family. A reception followed. The bride and groom will reside with the bride's parents on Riverside Drive.

ANNUAL AUTO TOLL CONTINUES TO INCREASE

Auto Deaths Increase Here

Coroner Potter's Report Shows Greatest Number In Past Six Years

SEVEN HOMICIDES OCCUR IN COUNTY

There was a big increase in the number of automobile deaths during the past year, according to the report of Coroner Orville Potter, made public today.

With only a few more hours of the year 1932 left, it is unlikely that any of his figures will be changed. His summary of death by violent causes shows that there were 28 who died as a result of automobile accidents, either through crashes or through being struck by machines. In 1931, there were 21 and in 1930 there were 24, the number having shown a steady increase since 1925, when there were but 14.

One of the most serious auto accidents occurred on the Butler road last summer when a New York woman and her little daughter were trapped in their car which took fire after it had hurried off the road and overturned. The child died right after the accident, but the mother lived several days.

Suicides Claim 12

Suicides claimed the lives of 12, one less than in 1931 and the same as in 1930. Accidental drownings resulted in five deaths, there being four such cases in 1931 and 1930. There were seven homicides, the slayer being apprehended in but one instance. In the other six cases, the killers managed to make good their getaway. The most brutal perhaps, was the killing of Policeman Clarence Campbell while guarding funds of the Mahoning Trust Co. He was shot down by a bandit in front of the Seventh Ward bank and instantly killed.

Five met their deaths in fires, four in railroad accidents, one from accidental asphyxiation, three from drinking poison liquor, while miscellaneous accidents accounted for the deaths of 14. Heart trouble, apoplexy, and other such causes resulted in the death of 50.

The total number of people who met violent or sudden death being 137, against 110 in the preceding year, 140 in 1929 and 120 in 1930.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Retrospection Shows Old Year Had Good Points

Considerable Activity In Seventh Ward Of Constructive Nature

Departure of the year 1932 is not making seventh ward residents sorrowful, it is true, but a glance back through the past twelve months reveals that the year was not without its good points.

The past year saw the erection of the new bridge over the Mahoning river at Willow Grove, an improvement for which New Castle and especially seventh ward and North Beaver township residents are most grateful. It meant the elimination of two sharp turns which had caused many accidents, a narrow rickety bridge hardly wide enough for two cars, and an eyecore. With the completion of the splendid new bridge, over half of the cost of which was paid by the state and the remainder by the county, a worthy entrance was created to the city of New Castle from the Pittsburgh direction.

That the paving of the Moravia street to West Pittsburgh road should be started was another welcome bit of improvement work brought by the old year. This road is used frequently by Mahoningtown residents. It links West Pittsburgh more closely to this community.

Then activity on the new P. and L. E. railroad station got underway. This proposition had been hanging fire for sometime, but actual work was started several weeks ago, and the new depot will be completed early next year. This means that a considerable sum of money is being invested in seventh ward.

An under-track tunnel is being constructed, an entrance to the train platform from Liberty street, a brick waiting room, a roofed train platform. Along with necessary storm sewers, track elevations, etc., this makes one of the largest jobs the city has had in several years.

Each of the above mentioned improvements has contributed some to the reduction of unemployment. Looking back upon them causes a feeling of considerable optimism for the dozen months in the offing.

NEW YEAR'S SERMONS

Their hopes and beliefs of what the year 1933 will bring will be voiced by the ministers of Mahoningtown from their pulpits Sunday morning and evening.

New Year's sermons are scheduled to be delivered in each of the local churches tomorrow. The subjects the speakers have chosen indicate optimism in the possibilities of the coming year.

Observations In 7th Ward

A sedan went over North Liberty street yesterday with signs on front and rear bumpers reading "Explosives." The owner must have thought that a good way to make other cars keep a respectful distance. Local college students are preparing to return to their studies after the week-end. Interior and second story of frame building formerly occupied by a Chinese laundryman here has been torn down. Several outside Christmas trees in this ward the still equipped with their electric colored lights. Those fences are still down at the box factory. Local young man heard describing the prairie chickens around west. Said they furnished a good meal for him one day when he was hitch-hiking through to California. And here's a wish of a happy New Year to everyone.

Woman Slightly Injured As Cars Come Together

Police Hear Of Several Accidents On The Streets Of The City

Armenda Hoover, of 1116 Dewey avenue, was enroute west on South Croton avenue, at East Washington street Friday, on the green light, when C. W. Smith of Leisure avenue, driving west on Croton avenue and making a left hand turn into East Washington street, struck and damaged her machine.

Mrs. R. C. Wilkins of 1116 Dewey avenue, who was in the Smith car, sustained an injury of the left hand of the right hand. She also sustained injuries to the head and chest.

W. Kenneth Patton, of R. D. No. 4 Harlansburg road, was enroute west on Croton avenue and did not see the car of John O. Varley, enroute north on Cascade street, until close to it. He put on his brakes and swung the rear of his machine around to avoid the Varley car but the machines came together and both were damaged.

Frank Hiler of 1101 DuShane St. was enroute north on North Hill St. at East Falls, as a car bearing Pennsylvania license 42101 came east on Falls street and made a left hand turn onto Mill street in front of his car, to the left of a street car. Hiler blew his horn and also went to the left of the street car. His machine and that bearing Pennsylvania license 42101 came together as the latter machine turned left into the Frasso garage. The machines came together and both were damaged.

To Resist Efforts Against Sunday Law

Fifteen State Groups Confer On Plans To Oppose Open Sunday In State

A conference called by the National Reform Association in which representatives of fifteen state groups interested in maintaining the Sabbath and the present Sabbath law of Pennsylvania met in Harrisburg Wednesday and laid plans for a state-wide educational and legislative program to withstand the efforts now being made to legalize Sunday amusements and commercialize the Lord's Day in the state.

Dr. R. H. Martin, convener of the conference, and president of the National Reform Association was chosen chairman of the conference and Dr. S. C. Enck of the United Brethren church, Harrisburg, secretary. Among the thirty representative persons in attendance was J. Audley Boak of Lawrence county, master of the State Grange.

From the year 1925 the records show a gradual decline until the end of the present year, 1932, which shows that there were only 2,233 instruments recorded, or a little over one-third of the number during the peak year of 1924.

In 1926 the number of instruments recorded dropped below the 6000 mark for the first time in three years. In that year there were 5,905 recorded. In 1926 there was a drop of 780 from 1925.

This was the sizeable drop for three years.

In 1927 there were 5,755 instruments recorded, a decrease of but 150 from the previous year, but in 1928 there was a drop of 699 from the year 1927. In 1929 the instruments recorded numbered 4,802, or a drop of 253 from the previous year.

The first big drop came in 1930 after the stock market slump of 1929. This year showed a decrease of 1,230, or a total of 3,572, as compared to 4,802 in 1929. The next year, 1931 showed a further decrease to 3,041 or 531 from 1930. One of the principal reasons for the falling off in deed and mortgage business is found in the inability of citizens to borrow money. There is still a demand for property at present day figures, but the prospective home owner, who does not have the full purchase price, which is very rare, finds that he cannot secure mortgage money. Consequently there is no sale. There are also many changes of property that could be made, but the same difficulty confronts this situation. On one side or the other, there is usually some money needed, and no where to get it.

In normal times where properties are changing hands there is also a shifting of mortgages, which helps to swell the number of transactions at the register and recorder's office. There has been little shifting of mortgages during the past year.

Those who have money lent on properties are generally content to let it remain, and this is decidedly true if the interest and taxes are kept up on the properties. Few lenders are demanding payment, knowing that it is almost impossible for a borrower to replace a mortgage.

Generally speaking home owners are endeavoring to retain their properties, knowing that values will come back, just as they always have.

PROSPECT MAN Gets Jail Term
Embracery Plea In Kline Case Brings Four Months Term

BUTLER, Pa., Dec. 31.—W. DeWitt McBride of Prospect, former real estate dealer, who pleaded no defense in an indictment for embracery in connection with a venire drawn to secure a jury that would try Mayor Charles H. Kline and Bertrand L. Succop of Pittsburgh, was sentenced today by Judge Thomas W. Watson.

Judge Watson directed that McBride pay the costs, a fine of $1 and undergo imprisonment in the county jail for four months. McBride has been in jail for 93 days and this will be credited on his term.

When McBride was arrested shortly before opening of the Kline trial in May, he implicated Charles H. Flick, a real estate dealer of Bakerstown. Flick received a trial by jury two weeks ago and was acquitted, although directed to pay costs.

Titan Quintet Will Play Case Team Tonight

Westminster Will Oppose Cleveland Floor Team At New Wilmington

COACH LAWTHER HAS RECOVERED

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 31.—Westminster College basketball players hope to end the year Saturday night with a victory over Jeff Carlin's Case courtmen here. The fact that Case has a strong team, that Westminster's outfit this year is still somewhat green, and that Coach John Lawther got up from the sick bed to direct the players are all factors in the Titan desire to win. The game starts at 8:15 o'clock.

The Case team is composed largely of sophomores. Eight members of the Case squad were on the Ohio Conference championship football team, and all are rangy and fast. Lou Moore, veteran center, was lost to the squad with a broken wrist until last week, but will probably see action against the Titans. Other Case stars who will probably start are Mervin Brownberger, forward; Tommy Dyke, forward; Lu Hubbard, guard; and Jay Watson guard.

Titans Are Fast
Lawther will depend on Newton and Douglas at the forwards, Bennett at center and Silander and Wilhelm at the guards. Ray Sweeney, Youngstown, O., had won his spurs in football, will also be used at forward; and Pete Leshchok, Farrell lad who shines at end on the Titan grid team, is being groomed for a forward position. Other Titan squad members are: Lou Pat, Altoona, center or forward; Tom Hutchinson, New Wilmington, forward; Tom Hillard, Kittanning, guard; Bob Arrowsmith, Erie, forward; Stub Monihan, Charleroi, forward; Ray Southard, Freeport, N. Y., center; Swede Humeke, Baldwin, N. Y., guard; John Healy, Freeport, N. Y., guard and Walter Young, Freeport, N. Y., forward.

The probable lineups:
Case
Newton.....F.....Brownberger
Douglas.....F.....Dyke
Bennett.....C.....Moore
Silander.....G.....Hubbard
Wilhelm.....G.....Watson
Referee: South.
Game starts at 8:15.

St. Marys Will Play At Butler

St. Marys basketball team will go to Butler tonight to play the Penn-Drakes at the Butler Y. M. C. A. floor. The following players are asked to report at the St. Marys hall at 7 o'clock to make the trip to Butler: Captains Uram and Lackey, Lasky, Rowe, Franklin, Shaffer, Hanlon, Sillman and the joking managers: Joe Dagnon, Jokey Travers, Kearns and Rosenberg.

ST. MARYS PLAYS TONIGHT, MONDAY

Oppose Butler Five Tonight At Butler, De Polas Here Monday

St. Marys basketball team is on edge for their game with the Penn-Drakes at Butler tonight and will return to their floor in St. Marys auditorium, North Beaver street, Monday night to oppose the De Polas, one of Pittsburgh's best teams. St. Marys has lost two games and hope to take over their opponents tonight and Monday night.

St. Andrews And Christians Will Battle Tonight

With all of the South Side basketball fans on edge, the St. Andrews and Central Christian church teams will play their second game of the season tonight at the St. Marys floor. The game will start at 7:30 o'clock with a preliminary that will find the St. Andrews and Central Christian Reserves tangling.

The Christians won the game played last week, and hope to repeat tonight.

At the St. Andrews Men's club meeting last night at the church Mr. Wignall, chairman of the club gave a fine talk, as did Coach Keith VanFossan and all of the basketball players. Solos were sung by John Hitchen, Mr. Evans and Bill Riley.

Eintrachts Hand Christians Defeat

Eintracht basketball team handed the fast Central Christians a 44 to 36 defeat last night at the St. Marys floor. The Eintrachts led at the end of the first half 23 to 12. Rohrer was the big star of the game, scoring seven field goals, while W. Grommes, Paulini and the Shafftic brothers also played fine basketball.

SCHOLASTICS ORGANIZE
South Side Scholastics basketball team would like to schedule games with all fast midget floor teams in the city and county. For games call 5255-W between 5 and 6 o'clock and ask for Albert. The following are urged to report for the practice session: Cabas, A. Parou, Benkowski, Sigler, M. Pacelli, W. Phillips, Malandro, J. Saad, Krause, Condas, Rowe and Hordig.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Jim Bausch of the Kansas City Athletic club took his place with America's great sports figures today as he has been awarded the James E. Sullivan memorial medal for 1932. The medal, given each year, is awarded to the nation's most outstanding amateur athlete selected by a committee of 600 leaders in the world of sport. Bausch, winner and record breaker of the decathlon in the recent Olympic games, received a total of 687 votes. Bill Carr was second with 648 votes and Ralph Hill was third.

There arrived at the desk today a New Year's greeting card from Jack Dempsey with "best wishes for a happy, prosperous 1933" and "Hope to see you at the ringside in June", meaning that Jacques is going to promote the Max Baer-Max Schmeling fight.

If football coaches know their football Southern California should defeat Pittsburgh in the Rose bowl game at Pasadena, Monday, Oct. 14, as the World-Telegram of New York all but Earle Neale of West Virginia picked the Trojans to win. Neale thinks the Trojans reached their peak against Notre Dame and that "the psychology is with Pitt." Hereabouts the fans hope Neale is right.

John Revolta, 21, pro from Menominee, Mich., broke the Miami Springs golf course record after it had twice been lowered yesterday and led the field in the $2,000 Miami open golf tournament with a 66, four strokes under par and two under the previous course record.

Joe Stecher, former heavyweight wrestling champion, and Jim London, championship claimant, have signed to wrestle in a one hour time limit match at Chicago, January 9.

Lenore Knight, Homestead, Pa., clipped nine and two-fifths seconds from Helene Madison's world record for the 500 meter free style swim yesterday in the Miami-Biltmore Country club pool at Miami. Her time was 7:02.06.

Pee Wee Jarrell, Indiana welterweight, had no trouble beating Dave Grove in a 10-round bout last night at Pittsburgh.

Charley Jamieson Is Given Release By Cleveland Team

Veteran Outfielder Becomes Free Agent And Can Sign With Anybody

(International News Service)
CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 31.—Charley Jamieson, the last of the old guard of baseball players who brought Cleveland its only American League pennant in 1920, has been unconditionally released by the Cleveland Indian Baseball Club, Manager Billy Evans announced Friday.

All American League teams waived on Jamieson and he now becomes a free agent, free to sign with any club in any league, Evans said. Jamieson's home is Paterson, N. J. He is 40 years old.

Lenore Knight Swimming Star Sets New Mark

(International News Service)
MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 31.—Helene Madison of Seattle, America's greatest woman swimmer, had a formidable rival for aquatic honors today in Miss Lenore Knight, 17-year-old Olympic swimmer of Homestead, Pa. Miss Madison's world record of 7 minutes 12 seconds for the 500-meter freestyle swim, made in Detroit in 1931, was shattered by 9-5 seconds when Miss Knight covered the distance in 7 minutes 2-3-5 seconds at the National Olympic Stars Aquatic meet here yesterday.

McLaughry Will Stay At Brown

Coach "Tuss" McLaughry has never entertained any thoughts of leaving Brown, it was signified recently, when he was approached by L. W. St. John, Athletic Director of Ohio State University as to his availability for a coaching job, elsewhere.

McLaughry is under a long-term contract at Brown and is perfectly satisfied with the arrangements, and will likely stay with the Rhode Island school for many years. He has had fine success at Brown since leaving Amherst.

The chief river in Indiana and the largest north tributary of the Ohio river is the Wabash river.

Bridenbaugh Team Conquers Visitors

Uram, Teplica, Reiber And Kominic Pile In Field Goals For Locals

W. P. I. A. L. Champs Fail To Impress—Score 14-5 At End Of Half

Playing a superior brand of basketball throughout the game, an impressive looking New Castle High School basketball team handed a highly touted Braddock High quintet a 33 to 22 defeat last night at George Washington Junior High gym. It was practically the same Braddock team that upset the New Castle five at Pitt Stadium early this spring. Johnny Uram, John Teplica, Reiber and Kominic all played stellar roles in the New Castle victory. Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh declared himself as satisfied with the way the New Castle team clicked. A crowd of perhaps 500 or more witnessed the battle.

New Castle Takes Lead
New Castle assumed the lead in the first few minutes of play and held it throughout the game. At no time were the invaders ahead or tied with the Bridenbaugh machine. Coach Hudson's team was somewhat crippled by the absence of "Pickles" Kreiling the star forward who has a touch of the "flu."

8-3 First Quarter
The end of the first quarter found the New Castle team out in front 8 to 3. Kominic, Uram and Reiber supplying the points, while for the visitors Kryzwicki and Hale scored for Braddock.

New Castle outscored the visitors 6 to 2 in the second period of the game and the first half ended 14 to 5.
At the start of the second half Coach Hudson sent Bulik and Sabie into the game in place of Katancik and Barvinchak.

The third quarter of the game was won by Braddock 11 to 8. The Braddock starting lineup returned to the New Castle stood pat with Coach Bridenbaugh refusing to break up his smooth working combination.

Visitors Rally
Reiber made a field goal and then Braddock climbed up when Buckley and Hale sunk field goals, and New Castle called time with the score 16 to 9. Buckley then caged another one and Kominic followed suit for New Castle. Kryzwicki then flung a long one and the score was 18 to 13 with New Castle leading. Uram bounced a field goal and four thru the hoops and Kryzwicki did likewise for Braddock making the count 22 to 16 with New Castle leading as the third period ended.

Barvinchak made a field goal for Braddock at the start of the fourth period and the score was 18 to 16. New Castle stood pat with Coach Bridenbaugh refusing to break up his smooth working combination.

Subs Get Chance
Coach Bridenbaugh sent in Fred Shelloff to replace Ridley at center and sent Batley in for Teplica. Batley scored a field goal soon after being sent into the game. With 18 seconds of the game left Johnny Uram was forced out on personal fouls and Hnat took his place.

Walter Okeson Is Elected As Head By Football Men

There Will Be Little If Any Tinkering With Rules For 1933, Is Belief

SOUTHERN MAN SCORES POLICIES

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—The professional savants, sages, deans and coaches who comprise the National Collegiate Athletic association have a couple of juicy morsels to mull over today.

The first is the intimation of Walter R. Okeson, newly elected head of the football rules committee, that there will be little, if any, tinkering with the rules for 1933 and the suggestion that if a change be made, it will be one to curb the indiscriminate use of the forward pass.

Bombshell Exploded.
The second was the bombshell tossed into the laps of the said savants and coaches at their final convention session yesterday by Dr. S. V. Sanford, president of the University of Georgia.

The tight-lipped little sage of the south denounced the association for its "let well enough alone" attitude in dealing with the current evils of sport.

He said subsidizing was the greatest evil in athletics today, denounced proselytizing by certain colleges, and demanded a new definition of the word "amateur." He suggested one to conform with the English and the Rhodes scholarship idea which stresses athletic as well as scholastic ability.

Moreover, said the professor, "we should do away with the set-up game." The spectacle of a big college trouncing a little one should be abolished.

Pomona Grange Meets Wednesday

Prohibition Campaign In County Will Be Inaugurated At This Time

Lawrence County Pomona Grange will meet Wednesday, January 4 at the North Beaver Grange Hall. There will be a morning session at 10:30 a. m. and an afternoon session at 1 p. m.

The meeting will be of more than ordinary importance in several ways. One of the features of the meeting will be the presence of the new Most Worlthy State Master J. Audley Boak at the morning session. In the afternoon between one and two o'clock Cameron Ralston, who is to conduct a two weeks campaign in Lawrence county in the interest of Prohibition, will deliver the first of his Lawrence county series of addresses in the interest of Prohibition.

After two o'clock, the time will be spent with the regular lecturer's program. Dinner will be served at noon by the ladies of the North Beaver Grange Hall.

SHARON'S TAX LEVY IS CUT ONE MILL

SHARON, Pa., Dec. 31.—City council has cut the tax levy one mill. Most of the budget reduction and the resulting tax decrease were effected by slashing salaries and wages of municipal employees. Only one job was abolished, that of street foreman, which paid $160 a month this year. Firemen and policemen received salary cuts of from $135 to $100 a month, a reduction of 25.9 per cent.

Gardner Makes Suggestion For Football Banquet

Would Like To Have As Many Of 1912 And 1922 Team As Possible Attend Dinner

Faculty Manager Ralph Gardner, of Senior High is full of clever ideas, and has come forward with his latest which is to wit—at the football banquet next Wednesday night at George Washington Junior High, he would like to have as many as possible of the members of the former New Castle High football teams of 1912 and 1922 attend and sit in a group.

These groups would denote the New Castle team of 20 years ago, and the team of 10 years ago the first year that Bridenbaugh coached here. In the 1912 group will be found Dr. Ray Lutz, Earl "Miz" Dart, "Hero" Kirk and others. On the 1922 team were Tommy March, Bob Preston, "Dutch" Haug, Howard Kirk, Ralph Day and others.

Warning Issued Regarding "Flu"

Dr. Theodore B. Appel, State Secretary Of Health Issues

List Of Suggestions
(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Dec. 31.—Warning against the outbreak of influenza Dr. Theodore B. Appel, State Secretary of Health, today suggested precautionary measures to curb a spread of the disease. They are:

1. The avoidance, insofar as possible, of persons who have symptoms of the disease.
2. Particular attention to the washing of hands before eating.
3. Unnecessary fatigue should be avoided.
4. Crowded places should be shunned if it is possible to do so.
5. Upon the first indication of a cold, rest is the best treatment and professional advice should be promptly obtained.

"Babe" Didrikson Stays In Hiding

Famous Woman Athlete Is Staying Out Of Picture As Much As Possible

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—Mildred "Babe" Didrikson, the lady whom A. A. U. officials unintentionally befriended by making it possible for her to have nothing further to do with them and whose martyr-value a week ago was very great, was still in hiding today. From what, nobody seemed to know, unless maybe it was for the good fortune that might have been hers for the asking. The fortune is here, the lady is not and, although I've known all too little about both, I'd be inclined to say that good fortune is like good beer. Once the lid is off it won't keep. Frankly, the boys seem to be doing a fairly competent and reliable job of managing the lady out of a good deal of money.

Powder Company Plant Blows Up Near Altoona, Pa.

Terrific Explosion Lays Waste To Glaze Mill, Damage Is Heavy

(International News Service)
ALTOONA, Pa., Dec. 31.—The glaze mill of the Atlas Powder company at Horrell Station, near here, lay in ruins today following a terrific explosion which ripped through the mill causing damage estimated at between $35,000 and $45,000.

No employees of the plant were in the immediate vicinity of the mill, constructed of galvanized iron, when the blast let go and none was injured seriously. Homes of workers in a nearby valley were rocked by the concussion and windows in several homes were shattered.

Terrific Blast.
The equivalent of about 7500 kegs of powder blew up with a roar in the glazing mill which was built in 1921. So terrific was the blast that a piece of mill machinery, weighing nearly a quarter of a ton, was found in a field a half mile from the scene of the explosion.

Origin of the blast was not definitely determined but the first theory advanced was that atmospheric conditions contributed to the explosion. Several persons were slightly hurt by flying glass splinters. Kenneth Knorr, son of a plant employee, was the most seriously injured, suffering cuts from flying glass.

PHILLIPS HALL TAX RATE VALUE FIXED
BUTLER, Pa., Dec. 31.—Judge J. Frank Graft of Kittanning, in an opinion received by Prothonotary Frank E. Clark today, announced that he had placed an appraisal of $135,000 for taxing purposes on Phillips Hall, the estate of Thomas W. Phillips, Jr., near the Pittsburgh-Butler airport. When the Pennsylvania township assessor and the county commissioners sought to raise the appraisal from $50,000 to $150,000 Phillips appealed to the court and the case was heard by Judge Graft.

Steven Hamas Is Under Suspension

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 31.—Steve Hamas of New Jersey and California, prominent young contender for the heavyweight boxing title, was suspended indefinitely by the Pennsylvania athletic commission yesterday for alleged failure to go through with a scheduled match. Four other fighters—Paulie Walker, Vidal Grogono, Don Petrin and Vince Hambright—and two wrestlers, Joe Stecher and Jim Heslin, also were banned for the same reason.

Capital is timid, of course. And maybe that's the reason the courts try so hard not to affront it.

Favor Trojans To Defeat Pitt Team Monday

Install Southern California Team As 2 To 1 Favorites To Beat Pitt

SEAT SALE IS UNPRECEDENTED

By GEORGE T. DAVIS
International News Service Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Dec. 31.—If Southern California plays the football of which it is capable—and there is no reason to believe otherwise—Pittsburgh appears due for a two touchdown beating Monday.

The Trojans will go into the Pasadena Rose Bowl classic as approximate 2-to-1 favorites, which odds are entirely too long against the best team in the east. Nevertheless, U. S. C. has a distinct advantage over the invaders in almost every department, with the exception of psychology.

Have Powerful Line.
Southern California's line is expected to be powerful enough to stop the slashing runs of All-American Heller and the plunges of Izzy Weinstein, but Jones frankly fears an aerial attack.

Nearly 70,000 tickets have been sold for the game, an unprecedented pre-game sale, Rose Bowl officials announced.

They expressed belief approximately 75,000 or 80,000 persons would be in the big bowl for the kickoff. The stadium capacity is 84,000.

Panthers Ready.

Tucson, Ariz., Dec. 31.—The Pittsburgh University football team, finished with 10 days of practice in the Arizona desert and on the Arizona University gridiron, will leave Tucson tonight for Pasadena to play the University of Southern California in the Rose Bowl Monday.

Coach Jock Sutherland and his players were hopeful they would snap the 19-straight game winning streak of the Trojans.

Three Games In County Church League Monday

Three games will be played in the Slippery Rock-Shenango township church basketball league Monday night at the Shenango high floor. It was announced today. The first game will start at 7:30 o'clock.

Center will tangle with the Harmony team, Calvary and Savannah will play the second game and Oak Grove and Mt. Hermon are scheduled for the third game on the program.

Three good fast basketball games are assured the church league fans in the township.

World Gets Ready To Usher In 1933 With Lots Of Din

Swell Christening For 1933
Is Planned In All Parts Of Universe

Happy Holiday Crowds Expected To Pour Out Dollars To Hotels, Clubs

By DAVID P. SENTNER

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—All the world loves a baby—and 1933 is going to get as well a christening as any of his popular great-grandfathers ever received on a New Year's Eve.

Bootleggers and hotel managers, among the godfathers of the event, today assured International News Service of this.

With beer around the corner, a new deal promised politically and technocratically to be explained before another New Year's Eve, everybody was expected to get his chest down from his head.

Leap Year About Gone.
A polite survey among the fair sex revealed a nonchalance concerning the passing of Leap Year. It was pointed out that no girl needed the slogan of the Northwest Mounted Police to operate.

The larger New York hotels and night clubs predicted crowded tables and ball rooms, according to advance reservations for New Year's Eve celebrations. Cover charges were lower than last year, including supper, dancing, souvenirs, entertainment (and in some cases breakfast), the rates ranged from $2.50 to $20 a person. The average charge per person was $7.

Week-End Trips.
Steamship companies offered special week-end trips of four days at minimum rates of $50 during which passengers could tilt the wassail bowl without looking over the left shoulder.

Broadway, the show-window of Metropolitan merrymaking, was getting ready for the annual promenade of jollyfying crowds. The "no parking for pedestrians" system, used so successfully on election night will be applied again by the police department.

Theatres are giving special New Year's Eve performances and managers are smiling at the advanced sales.

One well-known society matron is giving a New Year's Eve midnight "treasure hunt" on her Long Island estate.

Holiday Liquor Cut.
In the "speakeasy belt," proprietors plan to make the most of this year's celebration with the feeling that the business is on the decline. The price of liquor has gone to $7 a quart compared to a holiday price of $9 last year.

Prohibition Administrator Andrew McCampbell, of this area, said he was not requesting any reinforcements for New Year's Eve. He reported that the holiday liquor recently seized showed it had been cut as never before.

Sharon Police And Firemen Get Cuts

(International News Service)

SHARON, Pa., Dec. 31.—Twenty per cent salary slashes for police and firemen during 1933 were announced Friday by Mayor Fred Thomas as Sharon's new budget passed council.

A total of $30,000 was cut from the 1933 appropriations and the tax levy reduced from 15 to 14 mills.

INFANT MORTALITY RATE HIGHEST HERE

Infant mortality deaths were greater per population in New Castle during September than any other city or borough in Pennsylvania with populations of over 25,000, records of the State Department of Health show.

There were eleven deaths of infants under one year of age.

Births almost doubled deaths according to the figures, there being 81 births and 46 deaths during the month, both being about the average for the state.

Sheriff And Prisoner Are Being Hunted

Young Man Breaks Away At Gates Of Eastern Prison, —Sheriff Disappears

CHESTER POLICE WATCH UNDERWORLD

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 31.—Police today believed they were slowly closing in on Lester Ira Bennett, 20, who escaped Thursday at the gates of the Eastern penitentiary from Sheriff Frank C. Chamberlain of Shiga county.

Meanwhile, the continued disappearance of Sheriff Chamberlain added a further air of mystery to the case. Police were also searching for him and an unidentified woman companion said to have been in his car at the time Bennett broke away.

Search Underworld.
Bennett, police believe, is secluded in an underworld hide-out in Chester. During the night detectives issued a warning to all police that Bennett is now fashionably attired in a dress suit and topcoat, both purchased in Chester.

The sheriff disappeared after posting $100 reward for Bennett's recapture. Detectives who sought to question him about the assertions of a witness to the escape who differed with the story Chamberlain gave police, were unable to find him at the hotel where he said he would be registered.

Miss Abruzzini Goes To Duluth

Miss Espedita Abruzzini left by train this morning for Duluth, Minn., where she will assume her new duties as Italian nationality worker for the Y. W. C. A. of that city.

Miss Abruzzini served for the past two years on the Y. W. C. A. staff of New Castle working with the Italian women and girls of the community. She presented her resignation early this month.

The work with Italian women and girls will continue along the same lines as it has, under volunteer leadership, and with the assistance of staff members.

Motor Stolen From Seventh Ward Place

Arthur Klefer of Hillcrest avenue, reported to the police Friday that a five horse power motor had been stolen from his bulk plant on Swanee avenue. The police are making an effort to locate it.

CELEBRATE GREAT SAFETY RECORD AT SHENANGO PLANT

about by your untiring efforts and co-operation. In other words, you, the "key-men" of this organization were absolutely sold on safety and knew how to sell safety to your men.

The daily departmental meetings, the "huddle meetings" by the individual hot mill crews before starting their turn, the sounding of the plant whistle twice daily as a reminder of safety, the weekly reports from each foreman, the auxiliary safety meetings every other Wednesday, the general plant safety meetings, and last but not least, the attention given safety matters by your chairman. All of these attribute to the success of today.

I firmly believe, gentlemen, our record for 1932 will not only be recognized by the state of Pennsylvania, but by the National Safety Council. Our Pittsburgh officials are proud of our record, as well as the corporation officials in New York.

We are very sorry at this time to announce the very sudden death of Mr. Charles L. Close, Manager of the Safety and Welfare work of the Corporation. Mr. Close was very familiar with our record up until the time of his death, and we are sorry he did not live to see the accomplishment of our Safety Record for the calendar year of 1932.

It affords me great pleasure at this time to read to you letters received from the following:

Mr. W. A. Irvin, president, of the United States Steel Corporation.

Mr. E. W. Pargny, President, American Sheet and Tin Plate Company.

Mr. W. A. Harris, Manager, Roll and Machine Works, Canton, Ohio.

Louis G. Genkinger, President, New Castle Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Alfred W. Whitton, Secretary, New Castle Chamber of Commerce.

All complimentary letters in behalf of our safety record.

Casualty Head
A. E. Logan, Casualty manager of the Safety Bureau for the corporation was next introduced and congratulated the men upon the outstanding safety record. He said that insofar as he knows there had never been such a record compiled in the records of the industries in the United States and Canada and that the record certainly would be brought to the attention of the National Safety Council.

Mr. Logan stated that he already pledged the Shenango Plant to another year of no lost time accidents and urged the men to hold up his hands in carrying out the pledge.

You must not relax now that you have accomplished this," said he. "Safety must always be foremost in your mind, it means safety for yourself and your families."

Magic had a place on the program. E. R. Muddyman, of the Pittsburgh engineering staff presenting some baffling tricks. Mr. Muddyman is a member of the corporation's personnel, but has an act that is superior to many professional acts. His skill in producing handkerchieves, balls and what not from hidden places provided the entertainment value for the evening.

Pictures Of Industry
Motion pictures of the various processes required to manufacture tin plate and other steel products were shown. The picture starting with the mining of iron ore in the Lake Superior region and finishing with the manufacture of tin cans and automobile bodies.

A number of selections were sung by the Shenango Quartet with John M. Evans and Grant Parks accompanying. Socially the evening was a success, but the reason for it was the thing. It marked more than a year's continuous run without a man having to spend time on a bed of pain because of accident, and from the spirit manifest Friday night, Shenango will make the record a two year record by the end of 1933.

SESSION OF COURT TUESDAY MORNING
Judges R. L. Hildebrand and James A. Chambers will hold a session of court on next Tuesday morning for the purpose of hearing motions and petitions. Motion court is usually held at the beginning of each month. The next regular session of common pleas court will be held during the week, beginning January 9th. Another session will open on January 16th.

Recalls First Day Inspector Of Conty

Discussions concerning inspectors of milk develops that the first milk inspector the city of New Castle has was I. A. Thayer who served some 25 or more years ago. Mr. Thayer died some years ago.

He was once pastor of the Disciple church and later took up agriculture and according to Dr. E. C. Porter, local veterinarian, he had quite a nice garden along the Nesbitt.

The veterinarian recalls that the late Mr. Thayer was the first inspector of dairies and his duties called him to various farms throughout the county.

One of his discoveries was that one person who furnished milk to the city hauled it in which after being emptied filled with food he collected fogs. He put a quick stop to this.

He was very particular to the sanitary conditions of the production of milk waste from stables had to be plain pits or bins and covered.

Dr. Porter recalls that one time he saw the late Thayer digging a trench at a barn so the water which laid near the ould flow away.

Not only was the Mr. Thayer educated in the try but he was also a medical D. Dr. Porter termed him their real inspector milk dairies city ever had.

tion 1932 has is that brought us 366 days.

Some of the more able bachelors will breathe a relief perhaps as the clocks by the midnight mark toll. They figure they are safe for three years.

This is the night on the McGooft family gets its usual chance to shine. You may have met the McGoofts. You get all about 1:30 in the morning and piping voice on the other end of wire inquires "Is this 1933? Sleepily you inform that this is 1933 or whatever the number is and the voice then invites you to k at the calendar.

Another one of the McGooft antics is to call you out the time when your sleep is getting into high gear and ask you if you will go down and see if the electric light is burning. You do, and me back, and report, whereupon you are invited to blow it out.

Watch for the McGoofts tonight. The dan riles with every member in place.

And now to finish a year's colyming. While the orchestra plays a little soft music "Hearts and Flowers" or "Pit and Peasant," or something equally as appropriate, stand by and wish you all a Happy New Year. Doubled and redoubled.

Those in attendance at the meeting yesterday were E. O. Alexander, line superintendent, at Sharon; C. Latonna, meter superintendent, at New Castle; J. A. Gardner, line superintendent at Zellenople; L. E. Remor, line superintendent at Greenville; J. R. Mitchell, substation superintendent at Sharon; S. R. Wilkison, line superintendent at New Castle; L. B. Round, vice president and general manager; T. L. Paden, electrical superintendent; A. E. Miller, general purchasing agent, and L. M. Shields general rights-of-way superintendent.

Dear Brother Lion:
At yr first meeting of the new year w have secured a very splendid speaker who will have a timely message for us. Let us have every member present.

Dr. John Coleman, Professor of Political Science and Bible at Geneva College will talk to us on Current Events.

Dr. Coleman is well worth hearing.

Very truly yours,
THOMAS J. ELLIOTT,
Secretary.

HAPPY NEW YEAR

And it will be a happy year for those who use electric service for comfort and convenience in their homes.

For over forty years the Pennsylvania Power Company and its predecessors have served the people of this area.

Every year has seen greater dependability of that service. Every year has made that service more valuable thru the development of new uses to promote comfort in the home.

Yet its price today is lower than ever before.
